CUC recently completed a restructuring exercise to best position the Company to achieve its long-term strategic goals. This process resulted in the introduction of new Director roles to the Senior Management Team. The Company's robust internal training and development programme aims to provide CUC's employees with the skills needed to attain leadership roles, which has led to the internal promotions of four Caymanians to director-level positions.

Jason Burke
Director Energy Supply

Jason began his CUC career in 1995 as a Unit Operator Trainee in the Systems Operations Department. He was awarded a two-year technician scholarship in 2000 and graduated with an Associate's degrees in Industrial Maintenance Technology and Facilities Management & Engineering with High Honours from Texas State Technical College in April 2002.

In 2013, Jason was awarded a second CUC scholarship to attend the University of Portsmouth in the United Kingdom. In 2020, Jason was promoted to Manager Systems Operations and was responsible for the safe, reliable and efficient operation of CUC's power generation facility and electrical grid. Under her leadership, the department has successfully launched a Company-wide review of its health and safety procedures and established action plans to improve CUC's health and safety culture. Over the years, Joni has worked closely with several departments to identify and implement 'green' strategies within the Company.

Joni is a graduate of the Florida Institute of Technology and holds a Master's degree in Environmental Resource Management, a Bachelor's degree in Marine Biology with Honours and a Bachelor's degree in Ecology with Honours. In 2015, Nichelle left the role of Manager Financial Services to take on the challenge of Manager Customer Services while retaining the role of CFO of DataLink. Under her leadership, several new initiatives were brought on stream including the launch of the PrePay electricity service, the transition to a paperless billing process, customer text notifications and the implementation of Customer Information Software.

Nichelle is a graduate of the University of Miami and holds a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration majoring in Finance with a minor in Accounting and a Master's degree in Accounting and Management Information Systems. expand it globally.” He said. The Flowers family and YMCA have announced a partnership to introduce the new program. Every year the Sea Swim raises thousands for charity, and this year’s recipient is the YMCA.

His Excellency the Governor took part in the swim, coming third in his age-category. I just want to pay huge tribute to the Flowers family, Frank, and everybody associated with Flowers because this has become an incredible institution in our islands over the last 30 years, and people say that it is one of the top ten open water sea swims anywhere. I and I would say it’s the best anywhere in the world.” He said.

Deputy Premier Hon Chris Saunders said, “This government we actually created the Ministry of Sustainability and CLIMATE change, and that’s important, because when you want to do an event like this for 30 years its important that we take steps to preserve this very beach to make sure that 30 40 or 50 years from now, this event can actually continue.”

By Christopher Tobutt

Nearly 500 swimmers took part in the 30TH Flowers Sea Swim on Saturday 11 June, churning the bright blue sea of Seven Mile Beach into tiny white diamonds of white spray glinting in the afternoon sun. The 1 Mille between Coral Beach and the Ritz Carlton was finished by three young swimmers, 15-year-old Dominic Hilton, 18-year-old Jake Bailey, and 16-year-old Harper Barrowman, with Dominic and Jake tying for first place at an amazingly fast 20 minutes 45.21 seconds, and Harper not more than one second behind

Dominic said, “I really didn’t think I was going to win I thought I was in tenth place but I pushed hard the last hundred meters, and all the training paid off.” Harper said, that typically she preferred “200m to 800m” so that one mile was a good deal out of her comfort zone, but she still managed to become the first female over the finish line. Amazing.

A mother and daughter duo had a lot of fun taking part. Andrea Kilam-Higgo said, “I’ve been doing this every single year. I took it easy today and I felt great.” Daughter, Lila Higgo, 15 said, “I came 20th. I was really happy. It’s a good race and it’s a fun thing to do every year.” Their friend, Kate Meyers-Labanz said, “I enjoyed it because the water’s clear, and its really pretty.”

When everyone had got their breath back it was time for the presentations, at the Westin Hotel. Frank Flowers, the man who started it all off 30 years ago after learning to swim just one year short of his 40th birthday, said, “Really the support has been overwhelming, and continuously growing. The most difficult part has always been to get up and speak to the crowd,” he said, “I always leave, thinking that perhaps I did not express my warmest and sincerest gratitude to the volunteers, swimmers, my family and last but not least the sponsors. Thank God for his blessings on us and keeping everyone safe.”

Mr Flowers had an incredibly exciting announcement to make. a new Lean to Swim program for Cayman’s primary school children, so that over the next ten years, all of them will learn to swim. “We will have the first mobile pool in the world, and once it gets going we hope to ► Designate Chief Fire Officer Randy Rankin showcases the CIFS inshore equipment used to assist other marine agencies with emergency assistance to the new Minister of Home Affairs Hon. Sabrina Turner, MP and Outgoing Chief Fire Officer Paul Walker looks on.

The new Minister of Home Affairs Hon. Sabrina Turner recently met with the Cayman Islands Fire Service (CIFS) to discuss key priorities for 2022 and beyond.

This orientation process began last month when Designate Chief Fire Officer Randy Rankin delivered a ministerial briefing, highlighting recent successes, key priorities, succession planning and recruitment for the next class of Firefighters.

Speaking to the achievement and priorities for CIFS over the last few months, Designate Chief Fire Officer Randy Rankin said, "I am proud of our achievements to date as a service. This is just the beginning; we have started recruitment for our next class, acquired new trucks, and implemented industry training among many developments. Given the Cayman Islands' constantly evolving landscape, it's imperative we ensure that our officers and district stations are equipped to safeguard our community in any emergency we are called to support, whether building, aviation or other."

"As a service, we will develop and expand our professional fire and rescue skills, and I will maintain a workplace culture where colleagues feel valued and appreciated. Having been a CIFS officer for over 29 years I am honoured to lead the Cayman Islands Fire Service into this next chapter, and welcome the support of my CIFS colleagues, our Ministry and key partners."

During the meeting, CIFS and the Ministry team discussed plans and outcomes for the next phase of the service's development including: employee development and training, procuring and allocating resources and equipment, as well as station improvements across all three Islands.

Acting Chief Officer for the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) Julian Lewis said, "Having worked with the CIFS team over the last few months, I have been pleased with what I have seen and heard as well as impressed by all that has been achieved by the CIFS Senior Management Team in recent years. Their drive, enthusiasm and leadership of CIFS are commendable. The transition and handover to Designate Chief Fire Officer Randy Rankin taking up the substantive CFO role in August this year is going very well with a genuine hands-on approach that is fully supported by the Ministry."

Hon. Minister Turner, added: "CIFS is one of the cornerstones of MHA, supporting our community through domestic emergencies while working in partnership with other services to support airside and seaside emergencies. I look forward to working with them to provide world-class national service to the Cayman Islands for generations to come. I have every confidence that Designate Chief Fire Officer Randy Rankin's leadership will continue to deliver public safety priorities and to support the continuous improvement of our much-loved fire and rescue service."

Over the next few weeks, the Ministry of Home Affairs will continue these discussions as part of a series of meetings being held to orient Minister Turner to her new remit as Minister of Home Affairs.

Sailing Club's successful fundraiser delivers new coach boats

► Patricia Cunningham, Commodore Alan Roffey, and former Commodore Tim Ridley christen the brand new coach boat.

By Christopher Tobutt

Formed back in 1965, the Cayman Islands Sailing Club has a rich history of training Cayman's young people for world-class sailing success. Now that heritage of training and nurturing young Caymanians is set to continue, as the Club purchased a fleet of new state-of-the-art Hartley student sailing dinghies in May last year, and now has brought the first of two AB RIB (Reinforced Inflatable Boats), thanks to generous sponsors and a super-successful Summer Gala and Auction. . The club needs these boats for coaches to use, so that they can nip in and out, and around the little sailing boats that the clubs' youngsters learn on, giving instructions and being there just in case someone falls in.

"We have youth sailing programmes that are run from here for government schools and for individuals, and we've created several Olympians through this programme," said Alan Roffey, the Club Commodore. "Our coach boats have got too old and their repair costs have got too high. So we started some fundraising efforts to buy two new coach boats." The first boat is a lovely 15-foot long RIB (Reinforced Inflatable Boat) powered by a 40 HP engine. Its price was around 23,000 dollars. It was spotted by one of the club members on the parking lot of Automotive Arts in George Town, Mr. Roffey said. Fundraising got off to a great start when the club put out some invitations to some of the people who have helped before. "The first donation covered the cost of the boat," he said, "and then we held our Summer Gala and auction, and managed to raise 30,000 dollars through the auction, enough for another boat just like that one." They are going to see how they get along with the first boat, and whether it is just what they Former Sailing Club Commodore Tim Ridley remembers when the Sailing Club was first formed by the Westin, what was then known as Galleon Beach, before moving to its present location in the North Sound, and so he is thrilled to see the Club expanding, with its smart fleet of Hartley student boats, and now the lovely new coach boats, too. "These RIBs are fantastic," he said, "They're reliable, not too expensive and the coaches love them, because they can haul the kids over the side easily when they tip over in their sailboats, and also because they are made of soft material, if you happen to have a collision with a small dingy which is capsized, it won't damage the boat, which is excellent for the club. There were photos taken as a bottle of champagne was used to christen the new boat, before it was hauled out to the North Sound and given a thorough testing.

Former Club Secretary of 13 years, Patricia Cunningham said, "I think this is wonderful, and I think that the coaches are going to love it, because they've been operating out of boats which are very inadequate that are very old, for the last couple of years. I think that the sailing club is a fun place, and its very important that we support the children especially in their achievements. They're doing very well internationally as well as in their races and we need to continue supporting them."

PACT's new cost of living initiatives

Premier Wayne Panton announced in Parliament on Friday that his PACT government is bringing forward initiatives to assist Cayman Islands residents struggling to cope with the sharp increases in the cost of living.

Panton announced on his official Facebook page: "The sharp increases in the cost of everyday essentials such as electricity, gasoline and food are driven by external factors; factors outside of the Government's control. However, where we can provide some assistance or relief, we will."

He said that one of the main initiatives "is to help offset the increase in residential electricity costs driven by the recent spikes in fuel prices."

"We know that for most families, after the rent or mortgage, the electricity cost is one of the single largest expenses they face each month. We also know that fuel prices rose steeply and this is causing electricity costs to rise sharply."

Panton added that the PACT government has agreed with the main utility providers to setting aside more than CI$5 million to help families across the three islands with fuel price driven increases in electricity in July, August and September – the hottest months of the year and when electricity consumption is at its highest.

► Wayne Panton is trying to help the needy

The assistance will be for residential customers only, Panton said and capped at consumption of up to 2,000kwh per month, which will help some 22,000 households.

He added: "We will be finalising the details with the two utilities companies and rolling out a more detailed announcement the week of 20 June. We continue to be people-driven Government and we will always put the people of the Cayman Islands first."

Panton later listed the "measures taken by the PACT administration that lowered costs to assist our lower- and middle-in-

Prisons Services Honours Nurses for COVID efforts

Her Majesty's Cayman Islands Prison Service (HMCIPS) recently honoured its nurses in a staff appreciation ceremony last month.

Nurses Winslett Blake and Laura MacNab of Her Majesty's Prison Northward and nurse Yazzmine Smith of Her Majesty's Prison Fairbanks were recognised for their unwavering efforts in ensuring the safety of HMCIPS staff and prisoners during the peak of the COVID pandemic.

Commenting on the efforts of the nurses, Helen Reynolds, HMCIPS Supervisor and Treasurer for the Prison Service's Welfare Association shared, "Having the nurses here during the pandemic provided the necessary daily healthcare support along with guidance to keep our prison community safe."

Acting HMCIPS Director Daniel Greaves remarked, "While there are a number of challenges with managing any communicable disease within an establishment such as a prison, throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, our nurses made it a priority to safeguard our staff and the individuals in our custody and care while ensuring HMCIPS followed local health protocols and guidelines."

"HMCIPS nurses continue to work tirelessly to reduce the impact of Covid-19 while balancing the management, safety, and security of our community. We are proud of their efforts and on behalf of HMCIPS and the Ministry of Home Affairs we extend thanks for their continued service to our community" Mr. Greaves continued.

The Hon. Sabrina Turner, MP commented, "As Minister for both Health and Wellness and Home Affairs, I am deeply grateful to our incredible nurses who are working tirelessly within the institutions, and in partnership with our prison team

Keep sidewalks and roadside verges clear and keep our pedestrians safe

National Roads Authority (NRA) and Planning officials wish to remind property owners and residents of the hazards of obstructing pedestrian areas, and business owners the dangers of placing private signs (especially sandwich boards) within roadway shoulders and sidewalks.

"These signs pose great risk to our pedestrians as they have to step-out into the road to avoid the sign," said NRA Managing Director Edward Howard. Areas that are non-compliant include businesses along Dorcy Drive, North Sound Road, and West Bay Road.

The NRA requests that any obstruction to pedestrian mobility on a sidewalk or roadside walkway be removed immediately.

Under the Roads Act, road encroachments carry fines of up to $5,000. Under the Planning Law, these signs do require Planning permission and if not done so, will be removed by Planning officials. After serving notice, the NRA and Planning may remove or reduce the obstruction – at the owner's expense.

"We kindly ask property owners to ensure that all trees, landscaping and signs pose no danger to pedestrians or drivers. For clarity, it helps to consider that the majority of the Cayman Islands' roadways consist of a carriageway (for motor vehicles), as well as a narrow shoulder (usually three to ten feet wide) normally used by pedestrians," added Mrs.

Pandohie, Transportation Planner, NRA.

Accordingly the public is reminded that such encroachments of sidewalks and road corridors violate Section 16 of the Roads Law and can be reported to the NRA.

To report an encroachment or obtain more information, call the NRA on 946-7780 or email nra@nra.ky.

TIPS FOR BEFORE THE START OF HURRICANE SEASON

- Make an emergency plan. Making a plan will help ensure your family is all on the same page if a hurricane strikes. A plan can help you make decisions faster and reduce fear in young children.

- Know your evacuation route. If a hurricane is headed your way, you may be asked to evacuate your home. Knowing your final destination and route in advance can help you evacuate quickly when time is of the essence.

- Sign up for trusted alerts and warnings. During a hurricane, you'll need access to timely, reliable information. So it's best to identify several methods to receive alerts or warnings before a hurricane.

- Find a trusted radio news station. If utilities go down, a radio may be your only reliable source of information. Purchase a battery-operated or hand-crank radio to have on standby. And write down your local National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) radio station frequency.

- Locate important documents. Store copies of your medical information, insurance policies, passports, birth certificates and proof of address together in a waterproof container so you'll have them on hand if needed.

- Check your insurance policy. Typically, a hurricane watch is called about 48 hours ahead of tropical storm force winds. Once that happens, it's unlikely you'll be able to get a new policy or make a policy change at the last minute. To ensure your home and property are covered, check in with your insurance agent before hurricane season starts.

- Create a home inventory. In the event you have to file an insurance claim, you'll need to document everything you've lost. That's where a home inventory can help. It's a list of all your personal possessions, along with their estimated value. And it's a great way to help protect the contents of your home.

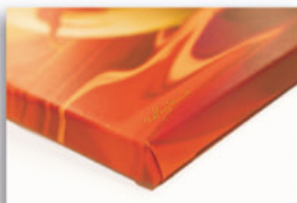

- Build an emergency kit. It can be hard to imagine several days (or weeks) without power, internet or running water. But during a hurricane, anything can happen.

That's why your family should have supplies ready for any type of disaster.

- Invest in a generator. When a hurricane is on its way, backup power generators are one of the first things to sell out in stores. Buy your hurricane power supply in advance, and familiarize yourself with these 9.

- Protect your pets. During and after the devastation of Hurricane Katrina, thousands of pets were abandoned because their owners had no plans to evacuate them. To keep your furry friends safe, follow these

About your kid's nutrition

If you're concerned about your child's nutrition and eating habits, you aren't alone. Here are some ideas for helping your kiddos learn healthy eating habits to last a lifetime...

1. Choose Whole Foods

Processed foods are the biggest problem with our modern diet. Packaged and refined food products are devitalized and filled with empty calories that quickly lead to weight gain. Unfortunately, processed foods make up a large portion of the diet of many children.

Offer your kids whole foods, rather than packaged ones. Whole foods are foods that are in their natural state. An apple. A piece of sprouted grain bread spread with natural peanut butter. A piece of hormone-free chicken. A bowl of beans. You get the idea.

2. Add Color

Adding bright and colorful fruits and veggies to your child's plate will get their diet on the fast track to health. Fresh fruits and veggies are filled with fiber, vitamins and minerals that are essential to good health.

Make it fun! Serve veggies with salad dressing as a dip. Cut fresh fruit in the colors of the rainbow and place them on a skewer. Serve a color themed meal – all green, all red or all orange. Use your imagination and you'll come up with an endless number of ways to make fruits and veggies fun to eat.

3. Make Smart Substitutions

Kids love pizza and pasta and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, and that's not going to change any time soon. Rather than fight your kids on their favorites, try making smart substitutions to make their favorites more nutritious.

- Pizza: Up the nutritional content of your pizza by opting for wheat crust over white, adding veggies to the toppings and sticking with lean meat toppings. You could even make "Pizza Eggs" by adding marinara sauce, cheese and pepperoni to an omelet and avoid the crust altogether.

- Pasta: Make spaghetti with veggie noodles – see the recipe below!

- PB&J: A PB&J, made with white bread using sugar-filled peanut butter and corn syrup-filled jelly, is fairly void of any real nutritional value. Instead make a PB&J with sprouted grain bread, pure peanut butter (with only peanuts and sea salt), and fruit-only jelly. This will provide real wholesome fuel for your child's day.

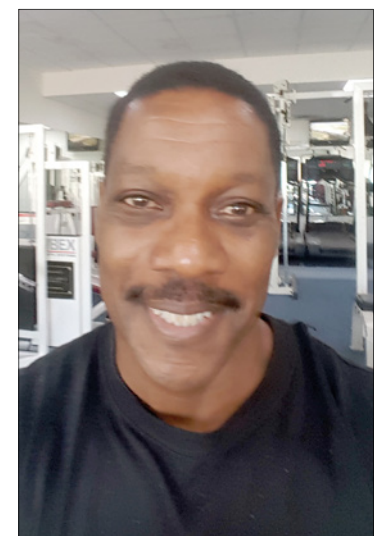

4. Ban Sugary Drinks

One of the best things that you can do for your child's good health is to instill in them a love for water rather than sugary drinks. Soda pop, juices, smoothies, and blended coffee drinks are filled with empty calories that cause weight gain.

The easiest way to do this is to stock your house with lots of pure, filtered water. Don't have fruit drinks or soda pop readily available so that they grow accustomed to drinking only water.

While I presented these tips as improvements to be made to your child's diets, these tips will also do wonders for your diet. Practice these tips for 30 days and I guarantee you'll look and feel better.

Parents all want good things for their children. Now how about doing something good for yourself as well? You are your child's biggest role model on how to live, for better or worse.

Treat yourself right by calling or emailing today to get started on an exercise program that will change your life for the best.

Fundraising hikers on track

Cayman's veteran fund raisers Derek Haines and Mike Burcombe are currently making their way across the GR20 - a 125-mile trail that follows the backbone of mountains that divide the Mediterranean island of Corsica in two - in order to raise funds for Jubilate, a very worthy charity in Cayman.

Derek and Mike are well-known in Cayman for their philanthropic hikes and runs, having hiked across the Pyrenees three years ago and raised over US$1 million for Cayman's Special Needs Foundation. Prior to that heroic effort, Derek ran six marathons to raise funds for Jasmine, Cayman's hospice care facility.

The pair are currently trekking through very tough terrain, through a mountainous region of peaks, many of which soar above 6,500 ft. With its dramatic gorges and rocky hillsides, this trail is popular with advanced hikers and deemed the hardest trek in Europe. The pair estimate it will take them approximately 15 days to complete, having begun the arduous journey on 6th June.

Having arrived in Corsica on 5th June, the pair were greeted by spectacular scenery and hot weather, and signs of snow at the top of the mountains that they would be trekking across. They spent the day getting acclimated, packing their kit, and hearing tales of hikers who have attempted the GR20 and not completed the first day.

Beginning their hike the next day, Mike and Derek confirmed the first day was "brutal". Within the first hour, they had climbed 1,000 ft and by the end they'd ascended about 4,000 ft.

Since 6th June, they've been trekking for nine to 12 hours every day. They've faced steep climbs, large boulders, and valleys carved out in the last ice age. They report that the mountains are beautiful, but unforgiving if you lose concentration.

The days have been long and arduous, the pair, who are in their sixties and seventies, said. Most days they are too tired to send an update and they need all the encouragement they can get from the Cayman community. People can encourage them by donating to Jubilate to support the future leaders of Cayman. Jubilate is an after-school programme that teaches less advantaged children from the Eastern public schools various life skills through music. There are currently more than 70 youngsters on the programme, aged 8-15, from eight public schools in Jubilate.

You can donate by completing a Pledge Card at jubilate.ky/donate or make your donation to the Rotary Club of Grand Cayman.

Cayman Islands Strongman Competition Returns

The Strongman Competition, hosted by the Cayman Islands Powerlifting Organisation, returns this year after a successful inaugural staging in 2019. Since then, sports and fitness enthusiasts have been eagerly awaiting the chance to test their strength and endurance once again in this event that was the first of its kind in Cayman. The competition will take place on Saturday, 23 July at the Lion's Centre from 1pm to 5pm.

Hundreds are expected to come out and watch individuals and teams compete in five events: the Conan walk; deadlift; atlas stone; carry and load medley; and a new event this year, the truck pull. The top 3 teams overall and top 3 individual male and female in each category will receive medals.

"We are so excited to be able to bring the Strongman competition back. The powerlifting community here in Cayman is small but we're passionate and we're growing. Some of our members and athletes – particularly the younger ones – have found the sport to be an effective outlet for dealing with personal physical, emotional and mental challenges they are facing, even more so in the last couple of years as we've gone through a global pandemic. This competition will be a great boost for their self-confidence and help prepare them for upcoming competitions. Thank you to our great sponsors such as Waystone for giving them this opportunity," said Cayman Islands Powerlifting President Tony McInerney.

"Waystone is proud to sponsor the Truck Pull Challenge at this year's Cayman Islands Strongman Competition! We will be in attendance with four entry passes up for grabs for four lucky winners from the Cayman office. We are pleased to support and bring continued awareness to the local charities that will benefit from this event - the Alex Panton Foundation and United Against Bullying. We look forward to seeing the powerlifters in action!" said a marketing representative from Waystone.

For those persons interested in possibly competing, McInerney will host a series of information and demo sessions each week to help familiarise them with the various events in which they can compete. Dates and times will be posted on the Strongman Facebook and Instagram pages @CaymanPowerlifting.

Part of the Strongman programme is the Be Strong! Youth Rally, an event for year 7 to 9 students from both the public and private high schools, which will take place on Thursday, 23 June at the First Baptist Church.

The CI Strongman competition and Be Strong youth rally is being hosted by the Cayman Islands Powerlifting Organisation. Some of the proceeds from the Strongman Competition will go to local charities Cayman Heart Fund, the Alex Panton Foundation and the Anti-Bullying Foundation as well as assist Cayman's powerlifters with expenses for overseas competitions.

Tickets for the Cayman Islands Strongman Competition this weekend are on sale at Eventpro.ky and are $15 for adults, $5 for teens (13+) and free for kids 12 and under. Doors open at 12:30pm and competition begins at 1pm. Food and drinks will also be on sale.

For more information or to register to compete, contact Cayman Islands Powerlifting Organisation President Tony McInerney on 925.5335 or tony-mac@candw.ky or visit www.strongman.ky.

The CI Strongman competition is presented by Waystone, Ministry of Youth & Sports, Mac Plumbing, Kelly Holding, Hopscotch Productions, Fast Signs, Business Tailored Solutions, Crown Events & Rentals, Car City, Cayman National, Accountability Services and DMS Broadcasting.

Guyana's oil wealth grows

Guyana's expected riches from enormous oil revenues will be even bigger than anticipated after more discoveries. The amount of oil discovered in the Guyana region in the past seven years means it could soon be producing more oil than Brazil. Guyana's population is around 780,000, Brazil's is 213 million.

ExxonMobil and its partners Hess and CNOOC have made an astounding number of high-quality oil discoveries in offshore Guyana. Two months ago Exxon announced that it made three more discoveries in the 6.6-million acre Stabroek Block, where it is the operator holding a 45 percent interest with 30 percent owned by Hess and the remaining 25 percent held by CNOOC. The discoveries were made at the Barreleye-1, Patwa-1 and Lukanani-1 well.

That brings the number of oil discoveries so far this year in offshore Guyana to five and a total of at least 31 discoveries in the Stabroek Block since 2015. Exxon estimates that those latest discoveries give it around 11 billion barrels of recoverable oil resources in the Stabroek block. The current price of a barrel of oil is $120. This is the world's largest oil discovery in two decades.

The swath of oil discoveries in offshore Guyana are not limited to the Exxon-led consortium's operations in the Stabroek Block, other energy companies are reporting similar quality finds. In January In January Canadian driller Frontera Energy, Colombia's third largest oil producer, along with partner CGX Energy, of which Frontera is the controlling shareholder, announced the discovery of oil in the Corentyne Block.

The Guyana government is expecting its second lift of one million barrels of oil from the Liza Unity vessel and with global oil prices still high, the country could get about US$120 million (or GY $25 billion) when the oil is sold.

Natural Resources Minister Vickram Bharrat said recently that the second set of oil the government is entitled to from the Liza Unity oil ship was expected later this month.

While industry analysts predicted in 2020 that Guyana will be pumping 1.2 million barrels of crude oil daily by 2027, there is every indication, based on the latest developments, that output will be far higher by then. Government officials believe crude oil production could reach 1.5 million barrels per day,

► Guyana's oil revenues may soon reach $10 billion annually or more, from as many as 12 Floating Production Storage and Offloading facilities in five years. If that is achieved Guyana will emerge as the third largest oil-producing nation in Latin America and the Caribbean with only Brazil and Mexico pumping more crude oil, resulting in a tremendous economic boom. The former British colony will emerge as a leading global oil exporter with its petroleum output far exceeding domestic demand, while government coffers will swell with annual income expected to over $10 billion.

► Georgetown, Guyana will prosper

Cuba jails more protestors

► Cuba jailed hundreds of protestors

Cuba has sentenced 381 people for taking part in rare anti-government protests last summer - with some jailed for up to 25 years.

The attorney general's office said 297 received prison terms, for crimes of sedition, public disorder, assault or robbery. A minority were given the option to complete community service instead.

Thousands of Cubans took part in the demonstrations across the Communist-run island, chanting for "freedom".

The protests, the largest in decades, came amid a severe economic crisis with protesters furious over price increases, and shortages of food and medicine.

Unauthorised public gatherings are illegal in Cuba, and more than 1,000 people were arrested. Images on social media showed what appeared to be security forces detaining, beating and pepper-spraying some of the protesters.

Those sentenced included "16 young people aged 16 to 18", according to the country's public prosecutor on Monday.

In 2021, Cuba's President Miguel Díaz-Canel blamed the US for the turmoil. He claimed the protesters were mercenaries hired to destabilise the country, and called on supporters to go out and defend the revolution - referring to the 1959 uprising which ushered in Communist rule.

This round of jail terms isn't the first linked to the protests. In March, more than 100 people who took part were sentenced to between six and 30 years' imprisonment.

The US and EU have criticised the trials for lacking transparency, and called for the release of those affected.

Antigua invites Trininis to play mas

► Antigua's Carnival is one of the region's best

Antigua and Barbuda is hoping Trinidadian's appetite for carnival will see revellers descending on their islands to enjoy their week-long festival from July 27 to August 2.

With most of the Covid-19 restrictions lifted across the Caribbean, the islands are inviting tourists to their shores for the summer holidays. Unlike T&T, which celebrates its Carnival in February, Antigua's carnival coincides with Emancipation.

In 2019, the last time Carnival was held, Antigua managed to attract 5,000 regional travellers and 10,000 international travellers. Now after a three-year break, coming out of Covid-19 lockdowns and curfews, the Antiguan organisers are hoping for a bumper festival.

BEST DIVIDENDS LUKE -12:21

These days it is very difficult to find and acquire a secure investment. Daily, billions of dollars are traded by those requiring the biggest bang for their bucks, and at the same time want security. In reality there's nothing like a safe high-end option on this side of reality. I learnt this the hard way recently with an investment.

In today's lesson the Rich young ruler met this reality. His portfolio was based on his abilities and continually made flawed plans. Christ stressed that true riches- safe investments with eternal, high yields can only be found to the priorities of His Kingdom. " Seek first the Kingdom of God and its righteousness is true today more than ever."

The only true option, true investment that yields eternal rewards is your trust in Christ Jesus. That's for sure.
