Cayman Airways to fly direct to LAX

By Lindsey Turnbull

Speaking exclusively with Caymanian Times publisher Ralph Lewis, Tourism and Transport Minister Kenneth Bryan announced on Tuesday that Cabinet had given its approval for Cayman Airways to begin non-stop flights to LAX in California beginning later this year.

"Cabinet has given full approval for the monies associated with it for us to start flight to LAX in California in the fourth quarter of this year," Minister Bryan advised. "The final date for take-off has not been set yet, because we are waiting for approvals from the LAX airport, which I suspect we will get in short."

Even so, he advised that commitment for support from a financial perspective was approved yesterday in Caucus and now it was just for him to take it to Cabinet next week Tuesday for formalities.

"I think it's a very lucrative opportunity for the Cayman Islands and we will be the only Caribbean island that flies to the west coast of America, opening up Asia and Oceania areas," Minister Bryan confirmed. "We have a large Filipino community here in Cayman who travel here

It's time to drop the mask mandate Vote in our Online Poll

Cayman has done a very good job in protecting its people as far as it could from the Covid-19 virus. We've got an incredibly high vaccination rate and the public have done an excellent job in abiding by the rules that this pandemic has dictated we live by for the past two and a half years or so.

But now those rules need to be lifted.

The Covid-19 virus is not going away any time soon, so it is something we must learn to live with. This means being particularly careful when we are in the company of elderly and vulnerable people, perhaps wearing a mask when visiting and taking an LFT beforehand to ensure we don't infect them. However, it is now time for the Cayman Islands to fall in line with major countries of the world, such as America and the UK, and drop the mandate for mask wearing pretty much anywhere you go. It is also time to ditch the need for a negative LFT before travel and to allow unvaccinated people to travel (at their own risk, of course) to the Cayman Islands and, by extension of the dropping of these rules, ditch TravelCayman altogether. (Indeed, this is already happening, as in some stores and restaurants in Cayman there is not a mask in sight - not worn by staff or their customers.)

If we don't do this, we risk an unsustainably slow return to tourism levels which, quite frankly, will be too late for many small Caymanian-owned businesses, who have only seen a relatively modest uptick in tourism since Cayman lifted its travel ban earlier this year.

Minister for Tourism and Transport Kenneth Bryan says that there will be some significant changes on 30 June to present regulations when those currently in place are due to expire. We say those changes need to be sweeping, for the good of the tourism industry and for the good of the country as a whole.

"It's important for us as a jurisdiction to stay in line with our main source market - the United States is 80% of our visitation - and we can't be seen as continuing to have these hurdles in the way for the freedom of travel, so we made some decisions that we think the public will be happy," he advised, acknowledging that many people are calling for mask mandate removals, stopping the need for negative tests for travel to Cayman and to do away with Travel Cayman approval.

Minister Bryan said Cayman had to make sure that we stay ahead of the game from a tourism perspective. We were falling behind in this regard because other jurisdictions in the region were already welcoming unvaccinated people, which will put Cayman at a disadvantage when it comes to where cruise lines choose to stop and also where stayover visitors choose to vacation.

Let us now ditch these final hurdles to economic growth and move forward as a country, as they have done in the US and the UK. Current recessionary pressures on Cayman's economy mean this choice is already made up for us: it's a case of sink or swim.

We encourage our readers to also have their say.

Financial Services Minister Leads Delegation to Future of Financial Services Forum

► Hon. Andre Ebanks

Minister of Financial Services and Commerce, the Hon. André Ebanks, is leading the Cayman Islands' delegation to the inaugural Point Zero Forum in Switzerland, an invite-only, in-depth engagement forum which focuses on the digital economy and sustainable finance.

Forum organisers, the Swiss Secretariat for International Finance and Elevandi (a company set up by the Monetary Authority of Singapore to advance fintech in the digital economy) say the in person-only forum brings together select global leaders, founders and investors with the purpose of:

- developing new ideas to advance the Future of Financial Services (FOFS) - decentralised finance and Web 3.0, embedded finance and sustainable finance;
- driving investment activity by bringing together leading founders with venture capitalists, private banking clients, family offices and private equity houses; and

- dissecting regulatory considerations related to each FOFS development by bringing together public and private sector leaders.

The conference is from 21 to 23 June. Accompanying Minister Ebanks is the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority's Managing Director, Cindy Scotland and Acting Deputy Managing Director, General Counsel, Angelina Partridge; Government's Financial Services Representative to the UK, Gene DaCosta; and Cayman Enterprise City CEO Charlie Kirkconnell.

The Ministry will update the public on the delegation's visit once they have returned home to the Cayman Islands.

every year. They now have a new route rather than travelling on BA and travelling via the west coast, which will be a quicker flight."

The flight from the Cayman Islands to California would actually be shorter by a few minutes than the flight from California to Hawaii, Minister Bryan said, so Americans who wanted to go to Hawaii could take a flight to the Cayman Islands instead, giving Cayman a competitive advantage over that traditional holiday hot spot for Americans.

Minister Bryan also said that the route would benefit Cayman's burgeoning film industry, linking Cayman directly with the heart of movie making in America.

"For us to have our national flag carrier, Cayman Airways, fly directly there will help us build that industry," he said.

He also thought it would benefit those travelling to Cayman from the US west coast with regard to Cayman's real estate and financial services, as previously they would have had to use other airlines and change flights in Miami, etc. In addition, Cayman Airways could benefit from this lucrative share of the market.

Minister Bryan said there were even more possibilities arising from this new route.

nent of that, talking about the flights within our region and connectivity and I'd be happy to announce our ability to connect the west coast to the rest of the Caribbean because we could potentially be a hub for the rest of the Caribbean to the west coast," he said.

The Tourism Minister said he would be sitting on a panel at the conference with Jamaica's tourism minister, who, he said, had spoken frequently about connectivity within the region.

"This is going to be a key component for discussion...I think this opportunity to fly directly to LAX will bring us to the spotlight and it will bring us many opportunities and I look forward to it," he confirmed.

Cayman Conversation with Minister Kenneth Bryan

By Lindsey Turnbull

Minister for Tourism and Transport Kenneth Bryan spoke with Caymanian Times publisher Ralph Lewis this week about his thoughts on current tourism and transport issues.

Travel restrictions lifting

Minister Bryan revealed that government met in Caucus this week and announcements would be made soon on the lifting of some travel restrictions, taking into consideration changes the US had recently made which negated the need for a negative Covid test for entry.

"It's important for us as a jurisdiction to stay in line with our main source market - the United States is 80% of our visitation - and we can't be seen as continuing to have these hurdles in the way for the freedom of travel, so we made some decisions that we think the public will be happy," he advised, adding that he knew many people were calling for mask mandate removals, stopping the need for negative tests for travel to Cayman and to do away with Travel Cayman approval.

The Minister said he would leave announcements on decisions the government had made on this to the Premier.

"We have to continuously monitor the freedom of travel to make sure that we stay ahead of the game from a tourism perspective," he advised.

Cayman was not doing as well as it could do because travel restrictions put hurdles in the way, with many people who are unvaccinated who want to travel who cannot and many who were worried about being stuck in Cayman if they were to test positive, he said. These hurdles meant our numbers weren't higher.

The end of the current Covid travel regulations would see substantial changes after 30 June and the announcements to this effect would probably be made early next week.

"As Minister, I am happy with what they are," he stated.

Cruising regs need review

In respect to cruise tourism arrivals, the Minister said he was glad the numbers continued to climb but that Cayman was still way behind cruise as we were in 2019.

"I think cruise will get back to normal a lot quicker than stayover just due to seasonality," he said.

But he warned the imminent global recession and cost of living increasing due to oil prices was putting a dent in travel.

"Travel is a luxury you and whenever it's time to cut costs you cut the luxuries first," he stated.

Bearing in mind the impact of the Ukraine invasion by Russia, government was expecting 10-15% losses in their projections in tourism arrivals, he said.

One particular concern he had was the mandating of people that they must be vaci-nated to come on a cruise ship, he said, stating cruise lines had advised that other countries in the region were becoming more relaxed in that area and were starting to open up their books to allow more and more unvaccinated people to come.

"If we don't stay with the times, we will be left behind," he warned.

If other destinations allowed unvaccinated people to travel on their boats, the cruise lines were more likely to choose those destinations over the Cayman Islands because they were able to fill more spots with unvaccinated people wishing to travel, he stated.

The risk levels of unvaccinated people didn't present the risks they did a year and a half ago, he advised. The economic fallout needed to be seriously considered.

We have to be bold in our decisions and not be left behind because it can economically impact everyone, he said.

Annual General Meeting & Change-Over Dinner for the Cayman Islands Justices of the Peace Association

► The Attorney General, Hon. Samuel Bulgin, JP gives the keynote address to the members.

The Justices of the Peace Association of the Cayman Islands recently held its Annual General Meeting (AGM) and Change-Over Dinner at the George Town Yacht Club.

During the AGM, a new Council was nominated and elected to serve for the biennial term of 2022-2024.

The AGM was followed by the Change-Over Dinner, which included participation from His Excellency the Governor Mr Martyn Roper, OBE, the Honourable Attorney General Mr Samuel Bulgin, QC and Mrs Suzanne Bothwell, JP, Court Administrator who also represented the Honourable Chief Justice at the Dinner.

Outgoing President of the Association, Anthony Scott highlighted the achievements of the Association during his term. In making reference to the disruption and uncertainty caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, President Scott said, "This has certainly not been a period of business as usual. However, thanks to the support, advice, and guidance from my Council Members, while we were not able to take on some of the challenges of assisting with issues involving 'At-Risk Youth', which we had pledged to undertake once appropriate training was provided to Justices of the Peace, we nevertheless proceeded to make donations to the following Not-For-Profit Entities which cater to children":

ORGANISATION	AMOUNT DONATED
DEPARTMENT of CHILDREN & FAMILY SERVICES	$5,000.00
FEED our FUTURE	$5,000.00
MISS NADINE'S PRE-SCHOOL	$2,500.00

During the dinner, the attendees were addressed by the Attorney General Hon. Samuel Bulgin, JP on the topic of Access to Justice. In speaking on the provisions of guaranteeing citizens have fair access to justice, he stated

"Over the years, successive governments have created frameworks to ensure there is equal access to justice for all. In the context of the Cayman Islands, many provisions are in place – and it starts with our Justices of the Peace." Mr Bulgin continued, "One simple way JPs provide access to justice is by providing their services in the Government Administration Building."

Mr Bulgin referred to an initiative created by the Association in 2018 whereby a Justice of the Peace volunteers to provide service to members of the public in the lobby of the Government Administration Building (GAB). Currently this service is available in the GAB every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 9:00am to 12:00pm.

During the evening's programme, the Association also paid their respects to two Justices of the Peace who passed away since the last AGM. They were: Messrs. Roy Charlton, JP and Bruce Eldemire, JP. Donations were made by the Association in their honour to the Lions Club of Grand Cayman Eye Clinic and to the Cayman Brac & Little Cayman Veterans' & Seaman's Society, respectively.

Three Outgoing Members of the Council were recognised for their long service to the Association and the community. They were Ms Jenny Manderson, MBE, JP; Mrs Georgette Myrie, MBE, JP; and Mr Albert Anderson, Cert. Hon., JP.

BUTTERFIELD LAUNCHES 2022 GRADUATE TALENT PROGRAMME

Butterfield Bank (Cayman) Limited ("Butterfield") has announced the launch of its Graduate Talent Programme and is now accepting applications via its website.

The programme is distinct from similar programmes in the industry in that it is open not only to university graduates but also to bright, talented and ambitious candidates who may have chosen a different path and have work experience in place of a bachelor's degree.

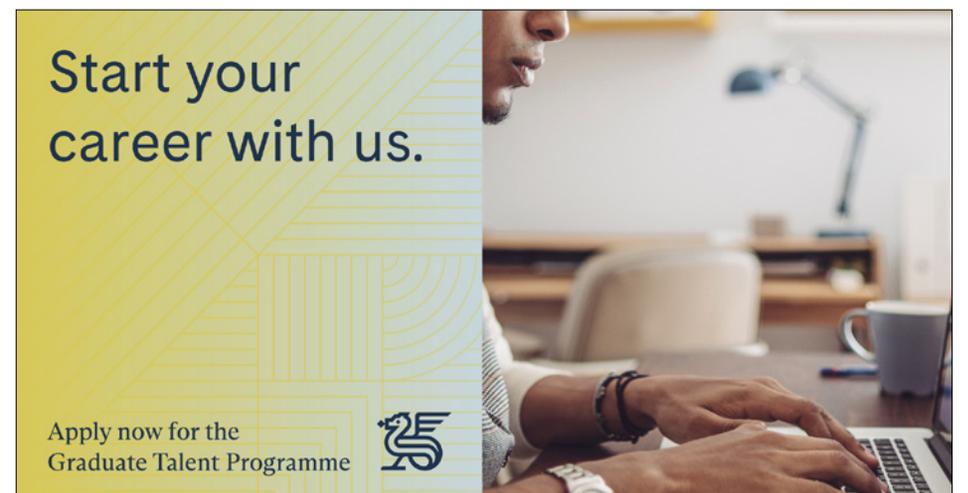

The structured two-year programme, which begins in September 2022, will see two successful applicants progress their careers in the financial services industry with full-time roles at Butterfield. The positions are competitively salaried with benefits.

During their time with Butterfield, the successful applicants will rotate and spend time in key business areas including Banking, Compliance and Risk, Asset Management and Trust, to gain practical experience and develop technical knowledge. They will also have an opportunity to embark upon an industry accredited qualification. Each individual will work closely with experienced professionals and will be assigned a dedicated mentor to provide guidance together with a personal development plan to set them up for future success.

Andrew Burns, Butterfield's Group Head of Human Resources, said: 'We are delighted to announce the launch of the Butterfield Graduate Talent Programme in the Cayman Islands and to be able to open up exciting career opportunities in the financial services industry. This programme is part of our ongoing commitment to develop the next generation of talented employees, building on our summer internship programme and undergraduate scholarships.'

'We recognise that there are many routes to success and our selection for this programme is based on more than just academics alone. Competence, motivation, leadership potential and an alignment with our core values is as important, if not more so. At the end of the two years, our aim is for the successful applicants to grow into a permanent position within the business in an area that is a best fit for them. I encourage all eligible candidates to apply.'

Applicants should have a strong interest in the financial sector and a desire to learn. The programme is available to those who have the right to work in Cayman.

Those wishing to apply to the Graduate Talent Programme or to find out about more career opportunities with Butterfield should visit www.butterfield-group.com/careers/graduate-talent-programme. The application deadline is 31 July 2022.

SHAVE THE DATE TO REUNITE AGAINST CHILDHOOD CANCER

Every September hundreds of supporters come together in Cricket Square to unite as one voice against childhood cancer at The Hannah's Heroes Big Shave. What started in 2013 as a small group of cancer parents with a mission to raise awareness and funds for research has become a crucial milestone event for the St Baldrick's Foundation, the largest non-government funder of childhood cancer research in the US. Fundraising in Cayman has generated over US $2.5 Million and resulted in the naming of 9 separate research grants at the most prestigious institutes across the US, including John Hopkins, Dana Farber and Duke University, where researchers are working on life changing treatments and cures funded by the St Baldricks Foundation, all named in honour of Hannah Meeson. In fact The Big Shave has made it into the Foundation's top ten fundraisers every year since 2014 amidst hundreds of events around the world and is the Foundation's most successful overseas fundraiser.

With just 3 months until the Big Shave, organisers are encouraging supporters to forego their Summer haircuts and sign up to shave their heads and fund further research grants for all types of childhood cancer research. This year's Big Shave will take place on Friday 30 September at The Wicket in Cricket Square.

"The efforts of the Cayman community have been entirely life changing for children and families facing a cancer diagnosis everywhere. Just 50 years ago all kids diagnosed with cancer died. Because of research today about 90% of kids with the most common types of cancer will live but for many other types, progress has been limited and for some there is still little hope for a cure. Currently all childhood cancers combined receive only 4% of US federal funding for cancer research so without vital research funded by organizations like St Baldrick's, Hannah and children like her simply will not survive. All children deserve to grow up and realise their full potential and it's something that most families take for granted," says Mrs. Gaylene Meeson, founder of Hannah's Heroes and mother of 14 year old Hannah Meeson, who was diagnosed with medulloblastoma, a type of brain cancer, in 2012.

When the crowd gathers in Cricket Square on 30 September they will celebrate and honour Cayman's childhood cancer heroes, Matthew Chong Ping (18), Tayden Grant (15) Hannah Meeson (14), Charli Foster (14), Allie Capasso (14), Beau Shields (12), Ava Paige Rico (12), Annabelle Reading (11), Saylor Sperandeo (11) and Mimi Ebanks (9) and will also remember the Cayman children who have died from childhood cancer. Several other children in Cayman have been diagnosed with cancer since the last in person Big Shave and organisers wish to encourage those families to join the event to honour and celebrate Cayman's childhood cancer survivors.

Local business owner Woody Foster has shaved every September since 2013 to raise funds and awareness and to honour his daughter, Charli, who is a leukemia survivor.

"This is hands down my favourite event of the year. I'm delighted it's back after two years of virtual shaving, and I'm looking forward to raising much needed funds for St Baldrick's. As a parent with a child with cancer there are moments that you're overwhelmed by the helplessness and despair and your desperate need to do something, anything, to help find a cure. Each year I am truly humbled by the way our community takes this cause to their hearts; from children donating pocket money to schools hosting their own shave events, bake sales, coin drives and dress down days throughout September, together Cayman's community has made a phenomenal difference. One person might make an impact but a whole community working together can create change and that's exactly what has happened in Cayman over the past decade," explained Mr. Foster.

Organisers recognize that shaving isn't for everyone but are encouraging the entire community to get involved throughout Childhood Cancer Awareness month by hosting bake sales, dress down days at work or school, sponsoring a colleague or friend shaving at The Big Shave and by attending the event on 30th September.

Opposition calls for more help with housing

David Wight, MP for George Town West, brought a Private Member's Motion before Parliament last week calling for increased assistance for Caymanian home buyers.

Citing the rising cost of land and homeownership making it increasingly challenging for young Caymanians looking to build or purchase their first home, the sharp increase in costs in goods and supplies and also impending rises in interest rates pushing up mortgage rates, the MP is calling for a raft of assistance for home buyers who currently feel outpriced by the market.

Finding a way to create affordable housing had always been a priority for the Opposition when they were in power, the MP said, in part because it was a particular area of cost pressure impacting Caymanians, but also because it was an area they could make an immediate difference.

Given the "eye-watering" hike in cost of living this year, the Motion, he said: "aims to provide practical support to Caymanians who are currently facing extraordinarily challenging financial circumstances."

David Wight

"The burden seeks to reduce the burden of stamp duty on all Caymanians and also to provide increased assistance to Caymanians looking to buy their first home," he outlined.

The Motion that he set before Parliament aimed to urge government to take urgent action that would at least provide some relief in the cost-of-living crisis facing Caymanians, he said. Specifically, he asked that the government consider as a matter of urgency amending the Stamp Duty Act, as follows:

For first time Caymanian property/home buyers:

(a) 0% duty on land-only with a value of up to CI$200,000; and for houses, apartments, or other dwelling purchases with a market value of up to CI$500,000, for owner-occupation; And

(b) 2% duty on the value above CI$200,000 on land purchases; And for houses, apartments, or other dwellings purchased for owner occupation, on the value above CI$500,000.

(c) In cases where the property is transferred to two (2) or not more than ten (10) persons who are first time Caymanian Homeowners:

i. 0% duty for bare land purchases with a market value of up to CI$350,000 and houses, apartments, or other dwelling purchases with a market value of up to CI$600,000, for owner-occupation; and

ii. 2% duty on the value above CI$350,000 on raw land purchases; and for houses, apartments or other dwellings purchased for owner occupation, on the value above CI$600,000.

For property purchased by a Caymanian that does not fall into the 'First Time Caymanian Property/Home Buyers scheme'

(d) 5% Stamp duty for Caymanian persons only.

The Motion outlined that there was money available to meet the Opposition's requests, with the announcement by the government of a record budget surplus of some $221 million as of March 2022, which included an effective windfall of $18.6 million more than was initially budgeted.

"A windfall that should allow government to reduce stamp duty to Caymanians in a meaningful way, especially for housing," the Motion stated.

Mr Wight said while the Opposition was not blaming the government for the cost-of-living crisis, which was due to the economic fallout from the Covid pandemic and the invasion of Ukraine by Russia, the government would be held to account on how they dealt with it.

Total Soccer Cayman

By Contributor

On Saturday 28th May, 14 warriors, their coaches and entourage from Total Soccer Cayman in the Cayman Islands embarked upon a journey to the Netherlands to compete in the Rood Wit International Under 10 tournament 2022 in the town of St. Willebrord which took place on 5th and 6th June.

This prestigious tournament sees European academies from professional teams such as Manchester City, Liverpool FC, Juventus, FC Köln and a host of renowned Dutch and Belgian team academies including Ajax, PSV, Feyenoord, Anderlecht and Gent compete for the cup. This is a serious tournament limited to 24 teams, including in addition to the above mentioned, teams from Denmark, Germany, Norway and Ireland and entry is by invitation only. Total Soccer is fortunate to have coaches well connected to the academies of these professional teams in the Netherlands which facilitated the invitation. Last time out in 2019 Total Soccer Cayman achieved a ranking of 21. Thus, the hope for 2022 was simply to rank higher.

The team travelled to the Netherlands the weekend before the tournament, primarily to enable the team to adjust to the time zone, but also to enable the team to play some friendly matches and to see some of the sights of Southern Netherlands including a fantastic tour of the Ajax stadium which the team loved. Friendlies were played against N.A.C Breda, FC Utrecht, and Excelsior. Nerves were high for the first of these games with Total Soccer simply not knowing what to expect from the academy teams of these European elites. It should be noted that the Dutch and Belgian professional academies are generally regarded as the best run in Europe, producing many of Europe's top talent including arguably the greatest of all time, one who revolutionized football in Europe completely with his Total Football philosophy, Johan Cruyff of Ajax and Barcelona.

After a nervy start, Total Soccer's irrepressible U10 team settled in their game and won all of these friendlies. Friendlies are however, well, friendly and attention turned to the tournament itself with a certain amount of trepidation as to what these European heavy weights might be capable of in a real cup competition. 24 teams are divided into four groups of six, each playing each other once with the top three after five games going into the Champions League competition and the bottom three going into the Europa League. Total Soccer Cayman were drawn against FC Nordsjælland (Denmark), Feyenoord (Netherlands), KRC Genk (Belgium), Juventus (Italy) and KFC Turnhout (Belgium). Esteemed company indeed, including the son of Claudio Marchisio at the Juventus academy. After two wins, including against Juventus, two draws and a loss from the group stage this was enough to place Total Soccer third in the table and a Champion's League place. The team showed great courage to bounce back from the opening game loss to compose themselves and steadily get better and better results. The result against Juventus was a dream come true! The weather on day one of the tournament started out very overcast, but became pretty sunny by late afternoon and it did not go unnoticed by the parents that the sunnier and warmer it got, the better they played.

With a win, two draws and two losses in the Champions League stage against TechnoSelect Talents (Netherlands), FC Utrecht (Netherlands), Club Brugge (Belgium), RSC Anderlecht (Belgium) and FC Köln (Germany), Total Soccer Cayman finished fourth in the table and entered into a play off match against Royal Antwerp FC (Belgium) to complete for a seventh or eighth overall placing out of 24. After ending that game 1-1, Total Soccer lost on the dreaded Penalties, thus achieving an eighth place ranking, placing higher than Manchester City, Liverpool FC and Juventus! Truly a remarkable achievement for a nonprofessional club from a tiny island in the Caribbean. "Cayman Islands?" was heard whispered by many at the tournament and at the medal and cup presentation ceremony presented by the mayor of the town of St Willebrord, the MC declared Total Soccer Cayman "the sensation of the tournament!"

These little warriors from CIS, Cayman Prep, St Ignatius and Sir John A. Cumber played their hearts out, showed immense determination and tenacity, but above all, great teamwork to leave their mark in Europe and to raise the profile of the Cayman Islands on a stage that few thought would ever be possible for football in the Cayman Islands. Congratulations to the players and coaches of Total Soccer Cayman!

Cycling for the Gold

How Nathaniel Forbes, one of Cayman's rising elite cyclists, discovered his cycling talent through the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award Programme

Four years ago, in 2018, 15-year-old Nathaniel Forbes began his journey in The Duke of Edinburgh International Award programme while a student at John Gray High School (JGHS). There, he enrolled in the JGHS Duke Unit and committed to doing the following to meet the requirements for his Bronze Award:

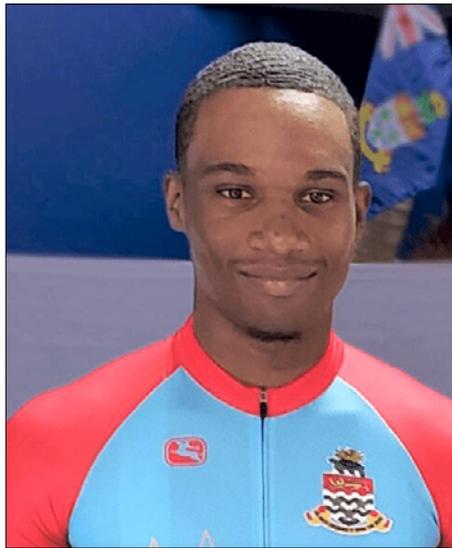

- Voluntary Service: Volunteering at the Red Cross Thrift Shop for 3-6 hours every Saturday. (He was named the Red Cross Youth Volunteer in 2019)

- Physical Recreation: Cycling

- Skill: Bicycle repair

Unsure of what to do for his Physical Recreation portion, he followed the advice of his Form Tutor and decided to try cycling. Not long after, as he began putting in the hours required for the programme, he was spotted by Jerome Ameline riding his Huffy along South Church Street and the rest, as they say, is history.

On finishing high school, he enrolled in the Certificate in Electrical Technology at UCCI and while there began working towards the Silver Award. His dedication and commitment to the Award Programme as well as to his studies did not go unnoticed, and soon his diligence began opening new doors for Nathaniel. In June 2019, he was chosen to hear Grammy-nominated gospel singer, Jekalyn Carr at the Cayman Islands Grand Court Youth Convocation.

Under the guidance of his cycling coach (Jerome Ameline) and through his commitment to training and developing the skills required, Nathaniel steadily progressed from amateur to professional cyclist and was selected to represent the Cayman Islands at several international cycling competitions over the last few years: In August 2021 he competed in the Dominican Republic Caribbean Championships. Later that year he traveled to Cali, Columbia for the Junior Pan American Games. Locally, in April of this year he cycled the Queen's Baton into East End as a member of the Queen's Baton Relay to help generate awareness and excitement across the Cayman Islands for the upcoming Commonwealth Games. Most recently, in May 2022, Nathaniel competed in the Pan American Road Cycling Championships in San Juan, Argentina.

Having attained both his Bronze and Silver Awards, Nathaniel is now working towards his Gold Award whilst completing his Associates Degree in electrical engineering at UCCI.

When asked about how he manages school work when traveling overseas to competitions Nathaniel had this to say: "Balancing school with training and cycling can be difficult at times. The sport of cycling requires a lot of time when you are aiming to constantly improve. In college I have a GPA to maintain so I have to find the time to get work done, so staying up all night after training is nothing strange to me."

Nathaniel added that the DofE Award programme has helped him to become a better, more well-rounded individual. "It has made me explore outside my comfort zone and try new things, for example public speaking. In this programme you learn the importance of teamwork and communication skills." The members of the Duke of Edinburgh Cayman National Committee are extremely proud of Nathaniel, his achievements and stellar commitment to all that he does and are looking forward to his continued successes. It is their hope that many other young people will be inspired by his story to join The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award and follow through from Bronze to the Gold Award.

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award is the world's leading youth award recognizing and celebrating young people's achievements outside of the school/academic setting. This is done by encouraging young people to learn new skills, be physically active, volunteer within their community and discover a sense of adventure through undertaking an adventurous journey. As they do so, young people develop life skills and become committed global citizens. Since it was founded by HRH the Duke of Edinburgh in 1956, over eight million people have participated in the Award in over 144 countries and territories. The goal of the organisation is for every young person aged 14 to 25 in the world to have the opportunity to participate in the Award.

3 Simple Eating Habits For Fat Loss

If you're looking to lose weight then these 3 habits are a must...

80% of your fat loss results are based on your diet. You can exercise hard every single day, but if you are making these 3 common mistakes then fat loss is going to be slow or nonexistent...

Diet Habit #1: Eat More Wholesome Calories

Starvation diets simply do not work. Restricting too many calories slows your metabolism to a grinding stop and causes your body to store those precious calories instead of burning them off.

But that's not all...

Starvation diets inevitably lead to rebounding with over-eating that causes you to gain even more weight. There is a huge benefit to eating the right amount of wholesome calories, spread out throughout the day.

Your metabolism is revved up and fat loss becomes automatic. Of course, these must be WHOLESOME calories and not junk!

Diet Habit #2: Eat More Protein

Protein is important for a variety of reasons, and sadly most of us simply do not get enough protein in our daily diets. When it comes to losing fat, getting adequate protein is a must.

It takes more calories to digest protein versus fats or carbs, giving your metabolic rate a boost. It's also essential to supply your body with the dietary protein needed to build and maintain your muscle mass - as muscles increase our resting metabolism.

Protein keeps you feeling full, boosts your metabolism and prevents you from turning to snacks that are full of fat, carbs and sugars.

Diet Habit #3: Don't Drink Sugar

One of the BIGGEST diet mistakes that most people make today is drinking sugary beverages throughout the day. Liquid calories add up and stubbornly stick to our waists.

Whether you're drinking soda-pop, sweet coffee drinks, or alcoholic beverages, liquid calories are habitual and detrimental to fat loss and health.

A great way to avoid liquid sugary calories is to carry liquid stevia with you. Add a little squirt to your coffee or tea throughout the day to please your sweet tooth while avoiding liquid calories.

Don't forget that a challenging and consistent exercise plan is half of the equation when it comes to losing weight, getting fit and feeling great! That's where I come in...

OUR TRUE POWER SOURCE – JOHN 15:5

Many times I would be working on my laptop when it suddenly dies. Even on my phone at times. Most times when I check, sure enough the other end of the cord wasn't plugged in fully into the wall. If we are not plugged into the true source of power we'll run out of power. In the physical. Spiritually, Jesus taught this lesson to His disciples using the imagery of the vine and branches. A branch by itself on the ground is just a stick because it is disconnected from its source of power and life.

Once connected to source of power it is alive and flourishing. The lesson here is simple. If you are not plugged in to Jesus you are dead for He is the true source of power to us.

Disaster Preparedness starts with "D" but Begins with "YOU"

Are you prepared for a disaster?

On Sunday September 12, 2004, the eye of Hurricane Ivan, considered a major and destructive hurricane, passed within miles of Grand Cayman. The damage done was significant. Many other hurricanes since then have affected the Cayman Islands to a lesser degree but have caused some havoc.

The potential loss of life, injury or damage to assets are inevitable in most disasters and calls for strategic planning.

Hazard Management Cayman Islands (HMCI) which is the "lead agency responsible for the national disaster management programme" on their website, caymanprepared.ky provides a very comprehensive guide relating to Hurricanes, Tsunamis, Flooding, COVID-19, Hurricane Guide and Get Emergency Alerts.

What can you do before, during, and after a disaster to improve the likelihood of your survival?

Note the following suggestions taken from an article entitled: When Disaster Strikes—Steps That Can Save Lives (Awake! # 5, 2017) and available on the jw.org website:

BEFORE — PREPARE!

Preparation is your most important key to survival. Proverbs 27:12 says, "The shrewd person sees the danger and conceals himself." But what does preparation involve?

- Prepare mentally. Learn about disasters that can happen in your area. Know where shelters and alternative dwelling are and be prepared with your "Go Bags".
- Prepare emergency supplies.
- Have access to the phone numbers of friends recorded in a book.
- Make and rehearse an escape plan. Plan to help others, including the elderly and the infirm.

- If the authorities order evacuation, leave immediately! Let friends know where you are going, or they may risk their lives looking for you.

AFTER — STAY SAFE!

- Let family and friends know you are safe.
- Do a damage assessment.
- Stay with friends, if possible.
- Recognize and address emotional trauma. Talk to caring friends.

Audley Smith, a resident of Grand Cayman, acknowledges the importance of good preparation for hurricanes and other disasters. He notes, "The video on JW.org 'Are you prepared for a natural disaster?' helped us in that it prepared us in three ways. First, it highlighted Is. 30:15.... We took the initiative; we took the time out to pray to Jehovah for his direction on this matter and to build our trust in Him right now. Next, it helped us to prepare physically; we were able to revisit our 'go bags' and put the necessary things in place. We were also encouraged by this video to buy extra supplies and keep it, so that we will be able to share with others."

Disasters may cause damage, loss, even death. Good preparation can ensure you make it through the worst of disasters.

Mistakenly some people blame God even referring to disasters as an "Act of God". The Bible, however, explains at James 1:13 "For with evil things God cannot be tried, nor does he himself try anyone."

For more information on disaster preparedness, please visit www.jw.org

DURING — ACT QUICKLY

- In a fire. Stay close to the floor and move quickly to the nearest exit. Leave behind personal items.
- In an earthquake. Get under sturdy furniture or next to an inside wall. Expect aftershocks and get outside and away from buildings as soon as you can.

- In a hurricane. Go to a hurricane shelter without delay.
- In a flood. Stay out of flooded buildings. Avoid walking in or driving through water. Floodwater can conceal dangers such as downed power lines.
