Pirates Fest: A traditional success

► Pirates, and at least one mermaid

By Christopher Tobutt

Thousands flocked to George Town Waterfront for the Pirates Landing, the official beginning of Pirates' week. It is always the moment everyone looks forward to most of all. The big cardboard castle, heralding the wonderful Cardboard Boat Race in the middle of Hog Sty Bay was still present overlooking all the fun. And what a lot of fun it was.

H.E the Governor, Martyn Roper was on the balcony of the museum. But he seemed to have slipped back in time, and was wearing the regalia of a colonial governor from the seventeenth century. Each year, a little drama unfolds. We hear great booms of cannons, and they transport us back into Pirate Land. But each year the story gets a bit more complicated, and now the Spanish were involved, too. They captured the Governor first of all, and raised the Spanish flag at the end of the dock. But now, what's this? The Pirates are coming! But it seems as if they are fighting the redcoats, so I am getting a little confused. I thought the redcoats were already prisoners of the Spanish....

Anyway, with lots of "Arrrghs" and "Ooohs," and cries of "Shiver me timbers," the Pirates made their way through the waterfront. Jack Sparrow was there, of course, and lots of tourists and families wanted to have their photos taken with him. But he wasn't the only star. You should have seen the wonderful pirate costumes that people had put together for the occasion. It's really popular and draws pirates from local clubs all over America. They come, year after year, like The Pirates love to get together in their home cities, raising money for charities, and there were Pirates from Dallas, Florida, and Seattle having lots of fun, and letting the local children who had also come with carefully made Pirate Costumes take photos with them, golden memories for mom and dad to keep forever.

Two pirates, Val Kegal and her husband, Dave come year after year. "We come from Atlanta, Georgia, because it's a national festival of this island, a great time for family fun, and a time to gather and celebrate, and watch the children pretend in a fantasy world of joy and happiness. Its also among the safest islands in the Caribbean. I try to visit the island a couple of times a year and I meet many of my friends from the US who are pirates coming in from Tampa, and Seattle, and they come in to dress up in their professional costumes," she said.

Lots of work had gone into the Float Parade, too, and each district had been hard at work for months, planning and making spectacular displays of their culture and heritage in their floats.

The George Town float had kids celebrating some of Cayman's medical Heroes, including Dr. Roy and Nurse Maud Seymour. East End's float honoured the Queen and the Royal family, and their visits to the Cayman Islands, with youth, Cayman's very own royalty, waving to the crowds.

Cayman Airways Flies Nonstop to Los Angeles

Opening this route will drive inbound visitation and grow tourism opportunities for our country

► Minister and CIFC Chair F Flowers

► Minister presents at LAX

Cayman Airways' inaugural nonstop service to Los Angeles International Airport (LAX) took off in true Hollywood style on Saturday (5th November) following an Oscar themed celebration at the departure gate at the Owen Roberts International Airport (ORIA).

The new weekly Los Angeles service is the first in the Caribbean, and is the latest addition to Cayman Airways' expanding network, highlighting the significant role that Cayman Airways continues to play in growing and sustaining the Cayman Islands tourism industry.

The Hollywood-themed ribbon cutting ceremony for the inaugural flight KX480 from Grand Cayman to Los Angeles featured themed desserts and gifts for passengers, while in Los Angeles on Sunday (6th November), a ribbon cutting celebration was held for the inaugural flight KX481 destined to Grand Cayman, with Cayman-inspired entertainment, refreshments and gifts available for passengers.

"Opening an air bridge to new markets such as this one, will drive inbound visitation and grow tourism opportunities for our country because our national airline is making it easier for travelers to get to our Islands," said Minister Bryan. "Over the longer term however, the routes success will depend on the continued collaboration between the Ministry and Department of Tourism, and our partners in the tourism industry, including the CI Film Commission, the financial services sector, and a host of other essential industry sectors working collaboratively together to leverage business and leisure opportunities.”

The LAX service also brings Cayman closer to Hollywood, one of the largest film hubs in the world, making it easier for LA-based production companies to capitalise on the Cayman Islands as a premier location for film, television, music videos, photoshoots, and advertising productions. In 2019, LAX airport handled 88,068,013 passengers, making it the world's third busiest and the United States' second-busiest airport.

“The launch of this new route has long been a dream for the Cayman Islands, and for Cayman Airways,” said the airline's President and CEO, Mr. Fabian Whorms. “The LAX route has been realised thanks to our new Boeing 737-8 fleet; one of the most fuel efficient aircraft ever. Initially, the flight will operate once per week, but based on initial bookings, we are certain that demand will quickly result in increased frequency in the near future,” he added.

Passengers on board the historic first flight from Grand Cayman to LAX included a mix of public and private sector officials, including Minister for Tourism Hon. Kenneth Bryan, Parliamentary Secretary Dwayne Seymour and representatives from the Islands major hotels and accommodations sector; along with representatives from other industry organisations such as the Chamber of Commerce, the Cayman Islands Tourism Association, Cayman Airways, the CI Airports Authority, the CI Civil Aviation Authority, the Ministry of Border Control, and the Cayman Islands Department of Tourism, among others.

While in Hollywood the Department of Tourism held a ‘Cayman Reception’ showcasing local musicians, Carnival models and dancers to promote the new route. The celebratory event facilitated further networking between the various industry stakeholder's present to discuss further opportunities within the Cayman Islands.

Well known Caymanians in attendance included filmmaker and CI Film Commission Chairman, Frank E. Flowers, model and actress Selita Ebanks, and Film & TV Producer Sean Rankine.

During his official remarks at the event, Minister Bryan described the work taking place behind the scenes between the CI Film Commission and Cayman Airways in offering special rates for location scouts, production crews, equipment and VIP greeters for talent originating from the California. The Minister later announced a planned introduction of a Production Incentive Rebate Program. This initiative would begin in 2023 with the aim of continuing to strengthen the US film industry's relationship with the Cayman Islands.

To date, the Los Angeles route is Cayman Airways longest commercial flight, pushing the Denver route into second place. The new nonstop West Coast service will operate weekly, departing Grand Cayman on Saturdays and returning from Los Angeles on Sundays. Inbound flight time is just five and a half hours.

“On behalf of the PACT government, I wholeheartedly offer my gratitude to the teams at Cayman Airways, the Airports Authority, Civil Aviation and the Department of Tourism for all their hard work throughout the process of transforming this new route to Los Angeles from a dream to a reality,” said Minister Bryan.

The Cayman Airways Los Angeles route will operate year-round once-weekly service from GCM to LAX on Saturdays and returning from LAX to GCM on Sundays. For details and to book, visit www.caymanairways.com or call Cayman Airways Reservations on 949-2311.

Seafarers to be honoured at district celebrations

Seafarers from the various districts throughout the Cayman Islands will be honoured at special celebrations from 15 – 29 November. Former pioneers of the seafaring industry, or their surviving loved ones, are invited to attend the celebrations in recognition of the nation building contributions made during their times of service.

The Cayman Islands Government has identified eligible recipients based on records retained by the Cayman Islands Seafarers Registry, previous National Heroes Day nominations, The Cayman Islands Seafarers Association, the Southwell Years book, Ms Gwen Bush's notebooks (currently held by the Cayman Islands National Archives), as well as other government records. Celebrate Cayman most recently held a registration drive to ensure the registry captured as many persons, whether alive or deceased, as possible. As a result, the Registry current lists over three thousand names.

Executive Chairman for Celebrate Cayman Alfonso Wright thanked the Cayman Islands community for their response to the recent registration drive and invited the public to attend the district celebrations. "The Cayman Islands would not be what we know it to be without the seafaring industry, and those brave persons who ventured away from the safety of our shores deserve recognition. I encourage the public to attend the celebrations so they can personally thank these heroes for their service and take a moment to appreciate our rich heritage", he stated.

The schedule of celebrations is as follows:

Date	District/Location	Time
Tuesday, 15 th November	East End: East End Civic Centre	4:00pm – 6:00pm

Ministry of Education (MoE) Provides Project-Based Grant Funding for Government Schools

The Ministry of Education announces its award of approximately ninety-seven thousand dollars (CI $97,000.00) in grants to four government schools during the 2021/2022 academic year through its Project-based Grant Programme.

"The Ministry of Education introduced its Project-based Grant Programme during the previous academic year to enable schools to implement projects that enhance their usual offerings and positively impact students," remarked Honourable Juliana O'Connor-Connolly, Minister with responsibility for Education.

All Government schools were eligible to apply for funding under the programme. Schools were allowed to submit applications for multiple projects. Nine schools applied with a total of 17 projects.

A committee comprised of senior representatives from the Ministry of Education, the Department of Education Services and members from the Education Council reviewed project applications.

MoE Acting Chief Officer Ms. Lyneth

Monteith chaired the six-member committee.

Ms. Monteith commented, "Having reviewed the project applications, we decided to award funding towards the most detailed project proposals and those not already covered in the Capital budget."

Layman Scott Snr High School was one of four schools awarded funding for the implementation of one of their projects.

The approved project involved the purchase of equipment for establishing a media club. Principal Mr. Devon Bowen remarked, "This project has heightened students' interest in willingly participating and supporting the digital media needs of the school."

Mr. Bowen also noted that the project enabled the capture and live-streaming of two key annual events; the Graduation Ceremony and the internal Awards Ceremony.

The Red Bay Primary School (RBPS) received funding towards the first phase of a project to improve its Reception Outdoor area. Activities in this phase included the installation of artificial turf and the construction of wooden planter boxes.

Red Bay Primary has since applied for and obtained funding for the project's second phase.

For the Acting Principal of the Edna Moyle Primary School, Ms. Dairdie Tingle, the revitalisation of the school's Reception play area was a worthwhile project. "The renovation of our play area has provided our students with a conducive environment that stimulates growth in all areas: socially, mentally and physically. The resources have provided our students with lots of opportunities to demonstrate learning in the different aspects of the early year's framework. They have made good progress compared to their starting points in August. There is evidence that they are socialising during play," Ms. Tingle remarked.

The project at the EMPS also included purchasing resources towards the school's 'Nurture Hut'.

The Ministry of Education also granted the Clifton Hunter High School funding towards constructing three mobile science laboratories.

Schools approved for a project-based grant must provide the MoE with a Completion Report within three weeks from when the approved project is scheduled for completion.

Project-based grant funding applications for the 2022/2023 academic year opened in September. Six schools applied with a total of 14 projects. Of those, four have been awarded funding for eight projects. # Hundreds attend the Progressives Seafood Fest & Health Fair

CI$5,000 was raised to benefit the work of the NCVO

The usually empty land beside the Farmers Market was alive with activity on Saturday, November 5th, as the Progressives held our first Cayman Seafood Fest and Health Fair fundraiser. The event raised Five Thousand Cayman Islands Dollars to benefit the work of the National Children's Voluntary Organisation (NCVO).

The Cayman Seafood Fest & Health Fair is one of several events to celebrate the Progressives' 20th Anniversary of Service to the Cayman Islands.

Ms Barbara Conolly (MP, GTS), who helped organise the event, said, "Our founding motto, For Love of Country, still guides us today. So, as we celebrate our 20th Anniversary, it is important to us to give back to our Islands. We set out to raise five thousand dollars for the NCVO to help with the important work that they do caring for children. A cause that is important to me. I am very pleased we met our goal!"

Hundreds of people attended the venue to purchase delicious seafood lunches, including shrimp, crab, turtle, conch, fish, seafood soup and many side dishes. Our Progressives volunteers ably served the lunches, and we were sold out at day's end. The HSA & Public Health staff provided health checks for blood pressure, cholesterol, diabetes, BMI measurements and nutritional counselling. They also offered flu shots, Covid vaccines and boosters. The Health Fair was as popular as the Seafood sale, with flu shots being particularly popular.

The Hon. Roy McTaggart, The Leader of the Opposition, said, "the event surpassed my expectations. We met our fundraising target to benefit the NCVO, and it was really heartening to see the numbers who attended to get their health checks and shots."

Mr McTaggart continued, "Thanks to everyone who came to support the event and to wish us well as we celebrate our first twenty years. Thanks to the many volunteers and businesses who helped make this possible, including the HSA and Public Health. Thanks to the Farmers Market for the assistance provided. And, of course, huge thanks to those who assisted with the food - Island Taste, MacDonalds, Kirk Market, Welly's, Dale Dacres, and Marcia Hulse. Because of all of you, the event was a tremendous success!"

Ms Pamela Webster of the NCVO said, "The National Children's Voluntary Organisation has been providing early childhood education and foster home care to the Cayman community since 1975. On behalf of the children, staff, and management of the NCVO we thank the PPM for their generous donation to support our cause. The NVCO is an important part of the Cayman community it serves and having strong community support, including this donation from the Progressives, will allow us to continue our work of providing early childhood nurse and pre-school education to low-income families, including nutritious school meals for all, as well as providing residential foster care to those in need."

As the Progressives continue the 20th Anniversary celebrations, upcoming events include a Free Gospel Concert on November 19th featuring local church choirs and performers with Carlene Davis as the headline act. We will hold our traditional Senior's Christmas Party in December, and more events are planned for 2023.

For the First Time, Cayman's Financial Services Minister Publicly Debates Tax Subcommittee Members of EU Parliament

► Minister Andre Ebanks and FISC Chair Paul Tang

Minister for Financial Services and Commerce, the Hon. André Ebanks, today addressed how the Cayman Islands cooperates on tax matters globally, and specifically with the EU, during a meeting with EU Members of Parliament (MEPs).

Minister Ebanks said he accepted the invitation to exchange views with the EU Parliament's Subcommittee on Tax Matters (FISC) to provide a better understanding of the Cayman Islands' partnership with jurisdictions globally to prevent and detect international tax crimes, in accordance with OECD standards.

"Like EU Member States and other countries around the world, the Cayman Islands endeavours to offer the best possible opportunities for our people to thrive and grow. Similarly, we are concerned about global issues, including climate change and economic stability," he said.

"And like EU Member States and other countries around the world, we also recognise that every government must collect sufficient tax revenues to deliver public services, such as healthcare, financial assistance, infrastructure and education.

"Therefore the Cayman Islands' firm position is that, as a global partner in fighting financial crime, we share tax information with relevant law and tax officials. This helps to ensure that taxes are paid where profits are made; and that governments are able to fund the projects and programmes that support their respective citizens."

FISC was established by the EU Parliament to assist in the fight against tax fraud, tax evasion and tax avoidance, as well as for tax transparency purposes.

To help address misunderstandings or information gaps that some MEPs could have, Minister Ebanks shared a graphic detailing the Cayman Islands' progress in improving our regulatory regime; and answered their questions, including on how the Cayman Islands' indirect tax system is not harmful to other jurisdictions that levy a direct tax.

He also invited FISC's Chair, Paul Tang; and FISC members to visit Cayman Islands, for them to learn more about the Cayman Islands' role in facilitating tax neutral investments.

MEPs expressed their gratitude for Minister's appearance before the FISC committee.

"We have done much to establish ourselves as a global partner. Quite a bit of this is evident in the cooperation frameworks found on our Department for International Tax Cooperation website, and in our assessments by the OECD, which sets the global tax-information exchange standard," Minister Ebanks said. "But, to dispel the legacy misperceptions, we must be willing to engage in respectful, open and frank discussions. I thank Chair Tang and the FISC members for their kind invitation and our fruitful public discourse."

The FISC meeting was a key component of Minister Ebanks' international engagement this month. Prior to this meeting the Premier, the Hon. Wayne Panton, addressed TAXE2 (FISC's predecessor) in 2017, as the then Minister of Financial Services.

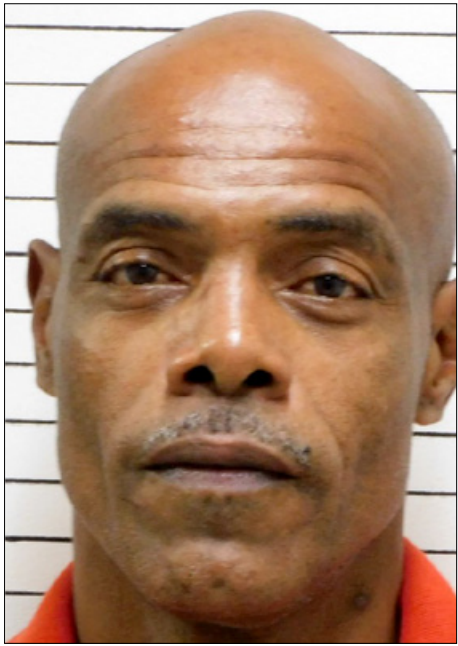

More details on Minister Ebanks' November engagement will be provided shortly.

Honouring our Veterans

Remembrance Sunday Ceremony at Elmslie Memorial Church

► H.E. The Governor, Martyn Roper and a detachment of uniformed officers from the RCIPS

► "We will remember them,"

► Loxley Banks of the Veterans Association lays a wreath

By Christopher Tobutt

"They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old. Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning We will Remember them," His Excellency the Governor, Martyn Roper, said at the Remembrance Day Ceremony on Sunday 13th November. Members of the Cayman Islands Veterans' Association, together with dignitaries from Government, and detachments from all the uniformed services had all come to pay their respects to those who sacrificed their own life for our freedom in front of the Cenotaph at Elmslie Memorial Church. Mr. Loxley Banks, representing the Veterans, responded: "When you go home, Tell them of us and say, For your tomorrow we gave our today."

A gunshot, making the birds fly away into the clear blue sky, heralded the beginning of the two minute silence. They thought about those they had lost, as well as the thousands they have never met, who enabled us to live the life of freedom from tyranny we enjoy today. They thought about their families, left behind, and about the children they were never able to hold, or see growing up.

Many people from Cayman served in the two world wars and many other conflicts, and lost their lives, and there were children from different primary schools who solemnly laid beautiful wreathes of red, blazing poppies. But remembrance also means remembering Cayman's brave seamen who lost their lives at sea, while sending their money home to their families, and making Cayman a better place, and so the wreath-laying was divided between the Elmslie Memorial Cenotaph and the Seaman's Memorial two hundred yards up the road, by the Royal Water Terminal.

H.E. the Governor laid the first wreath at both locations, followed by Deputy Premier, Hon. Chris Saunders. Next came President of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, Chief Justice Ramsay Hale, Leader of the Opposition Hon. Roy McTaggart, and Loxley Banks. There followed many different leaders of churches and community groups, as well as Commissioner of Police and heads of all the uniformed detachments.

Pastor Joel Clarke of All Nations Pentecostal Church prayed: "Almighty God Our Heavenly Father, we remember with thanksgiving those who made the supreme sacrifice for us in the time of war. We pray that the offering of their lives may not have been in vain. By your grace, enable us this day to dedicate ourselves anew to the cause of justice, freedom and peace, and give us the wisdom and strength to build a better world for the honor and glory of your name. Through Jesus Christ Our Lord."

Pastor Ray Hydes of the Church of God Universal prayed: "On this day of remembrance, O God as we recall those who died in the service of their country, we pray for the peace of the world. Guide the leaders of this and every nation and give them understanding of your righteous will, that the tragedy and horror of war may be averted by the coming generation, and men and women everywhere may be able to live in the freedom and fellowship of your kingdom."

► Deputy Premier Hon Christopher Saunders

► Children from the John A. Cumber Primary School lay a wreath for the West Bay men lost at war, or at sea
