HAITI REFUGEE CRISIS FEATURES IN UK OTs MINISTER'S CARIBBEAN TRIP

The situation in Haiti was a main issue in talks between the British government's Minister for the Overseas Territories and the Caribbean, Uma Kumaran, and governments of the Turks and Caicos Islands (TCI) and the Dominican Republic (DR).

On her first official overseas trip since taking up the role in July, Min. Kumaran first visited the TCI, a UK Overseas Territory, where she discussed security, border control and other issues. She then headed to the Dominican Republic where those concerns were also on the agenda. Both the TCI and the DR have large communities of displaced Haitian migrants.

According to an official statement, the discussions in the Dominican Republic focused on economic growth, regional security, clean energy and stability in Haiti.

"Economic growth, clean energy and regional security were the focus of Minister Uma Kumaran's visit to the Dominican Republic...The Minister arrived in the Dominican Republic from the Turks and Caicos Islands. There, she met local leaders and discussed regional security, migration

CBC Reminds Public of Vehicle Import Restrictions

The Cayman Islands Customs & Border Control Service (CBC) is reminding members of the public of the existing prohibition on the importation of vehicles whose model year is eight years or older into the Cayman Islands.

Under Section 4A of the Customs and Border Control (Prohibited Goods) Order (2025 Revision), the importation of a vehicle whose model year is eight years or older is prohibited, subject to the applicable exemptions set out in Section 4A(2) of the Order.

As the end of 2026 approaches, CBC is encouraging persons who are considering purchasing or importing a vehicle from overseas to pay particular attention to the applicable model year requirements and anticipated arrival dates.

Accordingly:

- During 2026, vehicles with a model year of 2018 or older are prohibited from importation, subject to applicable exemptions.

- Vehicles with a 2019 model year must arrive in the Cayman Islands on or before 31 December 2026 to be eligible for lawful importation.

- From 1 January 2027, vehicles with a model year of 2019 or older will be prohibited from importation. Vehicles arriving from that date must therefore have a model year of 2020 or newer.

Consequently, a vehicle with a model year of 2019 or older that arrives in the Cayman Islands after 31 December 2026, and which does not fall within an applicable exemption under the Order, will be considered a prohibited import and will be subject to seizure by CBC.

CBC advises persons purchasing or importing vehicles from overseas to verify the model year and carefully consider shipping and expected arrival dates before completing a purchase or arranging shipment. Importers should also allow sufficient time for unforeseen shipping or logistical delays that could result in a vehicle arriving after the applicable deadline.

Taking these precautions can help importers avoid the financial loss, inconvenience and additional costs that may arise where a vehicle does not meet the applicable import requirements upon arrival in the Cayman Islands.

CBC remains committed to providing clear and timely information to assist importers and members of the public in understanding and complying with the Cayman Islands' import requirements.

For further information, contact CBC at 649-4579, email CBC.OnlineSupport@gov.ky, or visit gov.ky/web/cbc. Persons are also encouraged to review the relevant legislation before purchasing and importing a vehicle.

Logic Raises KYD$10,000 for Inclusion Cayman Through “Connect for Inclusion” Campaign

Logic has successfully concluded its “Connect for Inclusion Cayman” campaign, raising KYD$10,000 for Inclusion Cayman while helping amplify an important message of disability inclusion across the Cayman Islands.

Built around the theme “Building a More Inclusive Cayman, Together,” the month-long campaign saw Logic commit 10% from every new customer sign-up to Inclusion Cayman.

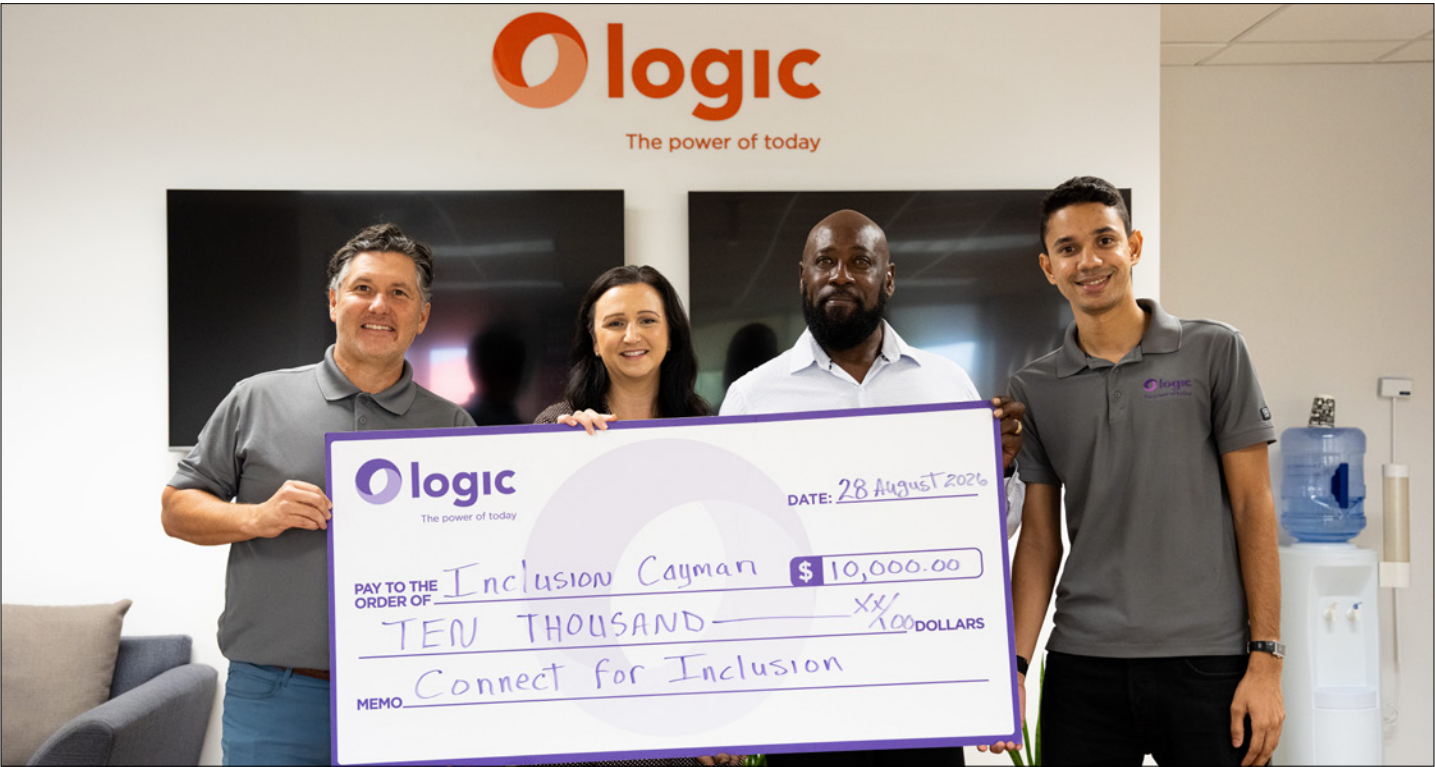

Alongside its financial contribution, Logic used its platform to promote Inclusion Cayman’s work, helping raise awareness of disability inclusion and encouraging conversations across the wider Cayman community.

Inclusion Cayman is an independent, impartial non-profit organization that has advocated for children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families since 2008.

Shan Hariman, CEO of Inclusion Cayman, said:

“We are incredibly grateful to Logic for their Connect for Inclusion campaign, which has not only contributed financially to support our core pillars of work, but has also built an incredible amount of awareness around disability inclusion and provided opportunities to educate the wider community.

Partnerships like these are invaluable in sharing our message, celebrating the unique contributions of persons with disabilities, and reminding us that everyone deserves to feel seen, valued and included. This campaign has shown what is possible when we come together with a shared vision of a more inclusive Cayman Islands.

Thank you to Jeff and the Logic team for recognizing the importance of our work, supporting those we serve, and giving us the opportunity to be part of such a meaningful initiative.”

Jeff Hart, General Manager of Logic, said:

“We are incredibly proud that the Logic customer community came together to raise KYD$10,000 for Inclusion Cayman, but the biggest takeaway for us has been the power of awareness. Shan Hariman and her team do an outstanding job of helping our community better understand both the challenges people face and the opportunities that become possible when those barriers are addressed.

When awareness grows, people take action. And when a community comes together to support inclusion, the result is not just assistance for those in need, it’s more people participating, contributing and reaching their full potential. That’s what makes a stronger Cayman for everyone.”

The KYD$10,000 donation will support Inclusion Cayman’s ongoing work across their three main pillars: Employment, Education and Community.

The Connect for Inclusion campaign forms part of Logic’s wider commitment to supporting the communities it serves and using connectivity as a force for positive change across the Cayman Islands.

Dart announces Joanne Lawson as Chief Executive Officer

Dart today announced the appointment of Joanne Lawson as chief executive officer, effective immediately.

Lawson succeeds Mark VanDevelde, who has served as CEO since 2008 and will continue as executive director and chairman of the board, focusing on broader strategic priorities across Dart’s global business interests. The transition reflects Dart’s long-standing commitment to thoughtful succession planning and positions the organisation for continued growth and success.

“The strongest organisations prepare intentionally for the future. This transition is a natural evolution for our business and our leadership,” said VanDevelde. “While my role is changing, my commitment to Dart is not.

“Joanne has been an integral part of Dart’s success. She has served as a trusted advisor and key contributor in shaping many of the decisions and strategies that have brought us to where we are today. Her journey reflects what is possible when talent, commitment and opportunity come together, and I have complete confidence in her ability to lead Dart into its next chapter.”

more than 30 years, helping to guide the company’s growth and development in the Cayman Islands and beyond. As chairman, VanDevelde will continue to provide strategic guidance and continuity for the organisation while supporting broader board-level and global business priorities.

Lawson, a Caymanian, is being promoted from her role as chief of staff and chief administrative officer. Since joining Dart as an executive assistant in 2003, she has steadily progressed up the ranks, having served in a variety of leadership roles throughout the organisation including in business development, property management and people and culture.

“It is an incredible privilege to be entrusted with this new responsibility,” said Lawson, who has played a key role in advancing strategic initiatives, strengthening organisational effectiveness and helping shape the company’s long-term vision.

“Dart has a strong foundation, an exceptional team and a tremendous opportunity to continue creating foundations for tomorrow through long-term investment and sustainable development.

“We remain committed to supporting Cayman’s future success by investing in our people, our communities and initiatives that enhance the quality of life for current and future generations. That includes creating opportunities for Caymanians, developing local talent and helping prepare the next generation of leaders who will shape the future of these islands.”

In addition to her leadership responsibilities at Dart, Lawson served as President of the Cayman Islands Chamber of Commerce from 2024 to 2025, championing initiatives that advanced education, economic opportunity and long-term prosperity across the Cayman Islands. She continues to contribute to the community through her service on the boards of Cayman Airways and Code(Cayman), a nonprofit organisation that provides free technology education and skills training to youth and adults throughout the Cayman Islands.

Derek Larner Memorial Run returns for third event on 25 October 2026

The Derek Larner Memorial Run will return on Sunday, 25 October 2026, bringing the Cayman Islands community together again for a morning of movement, connection, and giving back.

Following the inaugural event in January 2025 and a second race in October 2025, the Derek Larner Memorial Run continues to grow as a celebration of Derek's life and the values he held close: running, community, and supporting others. The event will now return annually each October, with the third race taking place at Cricket Square on Sunday, 25 October 2026. Participants of all ages and abilities are invited to take part across four race categories: the 5K, 10K, Half Marathon, and Kids 5K.

The event was created to honour the life and legacy of Derek Larner, a passionate runner, coach, and mentor who made a lasting impact on Cayman's running and wider community. As the founder of Race Caribbean and 345 Athletics Club (now Vision Academy 345), Derek dedicated himself to encouraging others through sport and creating opportunities for athletes of all ages to achieve their goals.

The event supports Jasmine Palliative & Hospice Care and the Cayman Islands Cancer Society (CICS), two organisations providing vital care, support, and services to individuals and families across the Cayman Islands.

The 2025 race raised a total of KYD $19,500 for Jasmine and CICS, with each organisation receiving $9,750. The donation reflects the generosity of the runners, sponsors, volunteers, and wider Cayman community who helped make the race possible.

Derek's wife, Laura Larner, shared, "We're so excited to bring the Derek Larner Memorial Run back for another year and see the Cayman community come together in Derek's memory. Derek loved running, but he loved the people and connections that came with it even more. This event is a chance to celebrate his life, keep his passion for running alive, and support two organisations doing incredible work in our community."

Trevor Murphy, Derek's close friend and Race Caribbean Director, added, "We're looking forward to welcoming everyone back to the start line in October. Derek believed in bringing people together through running, and this event is a reflection of that. Whether you're chasing a personal goal, taking part with family and friends, or simply coming out to support, everyone has a place at the Derek Larner Memorial Run."

Returning as Title Sponsor for the third consecutive event is Artex Risk Solutions, a global provider of alternative risk and capital solutions. Their continued support has helped the Derek Larner Memorial Run grow into a recognised event on the Cayman Islands sporting calendar.

The 2026 Derek Larner Memorial Run is also supported by Tower, Cayman Clinic, BDO, Claritas Legal & Regulatory Experts, Kensington Management Group, CG Brit-Cay, Aon Insurance Managers (Cayman) Ltd., Cricket Square, Jacques Scott Group Ltd., Maples Group, Mourant, Ogier, and Stingray Media. Their support plays an important role in bringing the event to life and helping us continue Derek's legacy through the race.

Registration is now open for the Derek Larner Memorial Run. Participants can sign up for the 5K, 10K, Half Marathon, or Kids 5K and be part of this special community event. To register and learn more about the event, visit <https://derekarnermemorialrun.ky/>.

Doctors Hospital Launches Apprenticeship Programme to Grow Cayman’s Next Generation of Healthcare Professionals

New two-year pathway offers young Caymanians hands-on training, formal coursework and a direct route into long-term diverse careers in the healthcare industry

Doctors Hospital today announced the launch of a new Apprenticeship Programme, a structured two-year pathway designed to give young Caymanians and aspiring healthcare professionals practical, hands-on experience and a genuine route into long-term careers in the industry.

The initiative reflects Doctors Hospital’s ongoing commitment to investing in local talent and ensuring that Caymanians are equipped to lead the next chapter of the island’s healthcare sector, working alongside the hospital’s existing team of dedicated local and international professionals.

In a hospital environment, there are many specialist clinical roles but also a diverse array of non-clinical or support roles. The three (3) roles targeted in this initial apprenticeship programme are support roles.

A Structured Pathway Into Healthcare

The two-year programme blends formal professional development coursework with supervised, on-the-job learning, giving apprentices practical exposure to healthcare operations, administration and support services. Delivered across four progressive six-month phases, the programme is designed to build both professional and technical skills in a real-world hospital environment.

The inaugural cohort will offer placements across three departments: Marketing & Business Development, Supply Chain Management, and Information Technology, reflecting the breadth of career paths that support world-class patient care beyond the clinical setting.

No previous work experience is required. Candidates must have a minimum of a High School Diploma Level 2 or equivalent, however an Associate’s Degree is preferred. Candidates must have a strong willingness to learn and develop professionally, along with a commitment to completing the full two-year programme. Only Caymanians and those with RERC will be considered for this programme.

Apprentices will be full-time employees of Doctors Hospital for the duration of the programme, receiving wages and benefits consistent with DH employment policies, and will be expected to meet the same standards of performance, attendance and professional conduct as the wider team.

Growing Cayman’s Own

Sharing her thoughts on the launch of the program, Doctors Hospital and Integra Healthcare CEO, Dr. Margo McCrae offered:

“Doctors Hospital has always believed in the importance of investing in people, and this programme is a natural extension of that commitment. We want to give the next generation an opportunity to see what a career in healthcare can look like and, more importantly, to give them the support to build one. Through training, mentorship and hands-on experience, we’re creating a pathway where people can learn, grow and develop the skills they need to build a future with us and within healthcare.”

Director of Human Resources and career-development pioneer, Mario Ebanks has always been a long-time believer in building local Caymanian talent.

“Investing in our own people is one of the most important things we can do for the future of healthcare in Cayman. This programme reflects our belief that talent is grown, not just hired. We want to open the door to Caymanians who may not have previously considered the diversity of choice in a career in healthcare, and give them the structure, support and real-world experience to thrive here at Doctors Hospital and across the industry.”

Applications are now open and full details about the program can be found at: doctorshospital.ky

Eat Well, Move More: Taking Control of Diabetes

Healthy eating and regular exercise can make a difference to diabetes prevention and management.

By Sandra Farrell, Public Health Nutritionist.

Diabetes is a growing health concern but everyday choices around diet, physical activity and overall wellbeing can play a crucial role in prevention and effective management.

What is diabetes?

The World Health Organisation (WHO), defines diabetes as a chronic condition, where the pancreas fails to produce sufficient insulin or the body is unable to use it effectively. Insulin regulates blood glucose levels, making it essential for maintaining healthy blood sugar levels.

Types of diabetes

Type 1 diabetes: It is an autoimmune condition where pancreatic beta cells are destroyed, causing little or no insulin production and can affect people of any age. Lifelong insulin replacement through injections or pumps is essential for survival, as there is currently no cure.

Type 2 diabetes: Type 2 diabetes occurs when the body cannot use insulin effectively or the pancreas produces insufficient insulin, causing high blood glucose levels. Without treatment, it can damage organs including the eyes, heart and feet. Some individuals can achieve remission through lifestyle changes.

Gestational diabetes: Diabetes UK, outlines that gestational diabetes, develops during pregnancy, typically in the second or third trimester, when hormonal changes reduce insulin's effectiveness. Although it usually resolves after childbirth, it significantly increases a woman's risk of developing type 2 diabetes.

Type 3c / Pancreatic diabetes: Type 3c diabetes stems from damage to the pancreas often caused by pancreatitis, pancreatic cancer, cystic fibrosis and surgery that result in insufficient insulin.

Type 5 diabetes: In April 2025, type 5 diabetes was officially recognised by the International Diabetes Federation (IDF). It's linked to early-life undernutrition in low income areas and characterised by poor diet and being underweight.

Symptoms of diabetes

The symptoms depend on the type of diabetes you have, but the common symptoms of diabetes include:

- Increased thirst
- Frequent urination
- Blurred vision
- Unexplained weight loss
- Increased hunger
- Cuts and bruises slow to heal

Nutrition and diabetes

There is no restrictive 'diabetes diet'. The goal is balanced overall nutrition that helps keep blood glucose levels steady and includes nutrient-dense foods in appropriate portion sizes to improve overall health.

Carbohydrates

Diabetes management aims for near-normal blood glucose regulation by choosing nutrient-dense, fibre rich carbohydrates, including non-starchy vegetables, fruits, legumes and whole grains while limiting fried and salty foods. Fibre slows the absorption of sugar into the blood stream and helps to avoid large spikes in blood sugar.

Five ways to add more fibre

Fibre is essential for keeping the gut healthy, helping to reduce cholesterol and balancing blood-glucose levels. Aim for 30g of fibre every day.

Choose a high-fibre cereal like porridge or all bran for breakfast.

Choose wholegrain breads, rice and pasta over white versions.

Eat pears, apples and sweet potatoes unpeeled, as the skins are full of fibre.

Eat your five-a-day, which can include fresh, frozen and canned fruit and vegetables.

Bulk up existing meals with pulses such as chickpeas or lentils.

Sources of protein

People living with diabetes could boost their protein by including lentils, tofu, chickpeas, quinoa, peanut butter and edamame beans. Other sources include skinless poultry, fish, eggs and reduced fat dairy products such as skimmed milk and yoghurt.

Fat intake

WHO and The American College of Cardiology recommend limiting saturated and trans-fat. The American Diabetes Association advises replacing them with healthier monounsaturated and polyunsaturated sources including nuts, seeds, avocados, oily fish and olive oil.

Water and diabetes

Water contains no carbohydrates or calories, so is an ideal drink for people with diabetes. Research has shown that drinking water could help control blood glucose levels.

Be physically active Physical activity can improve glycaemic control. Exercise improves weight control, overall fitness, improved psychological wellbeing and quality of life.

WHO recommends adults complete at least 150 minutes of moderate-intensity activity or 75 minutes of vigorous activity weekly, or a combination. Activities include walking, cycling, dancing, swimming and running. Adults should also undertake muscle-strengthening exercises targeting major muscle groups on at least two days each week.

Incorporating (NEAT) movement

NEAT (non-exercise activity thermogenesis) is the energy used and calories burned through daily activities outside of sleeping, eating and planned exercise. Research demonstrates that NEAT could account for up to 2,000 calories per day of energy burnt. If you struggle to fit in exercise, everyday movement can contribute significantly to daily energy expenditure.

Everyday activities such as shopping, gardening, house work, swimming and moving at work can improve mobility, wellbeing and weight management. Aim to move regularly, stretch hourly and use the stairs instead of the lift whenever possible. So keep active!

UCCI Welcomed Students to the 2026–2027 Academic Year, Strengthening Connections Across the Cayman Islands

The University College of the Cayman Islands (UCCI) welcomed new and returning students to the 2026–2027 academic year through a series of orientation activities across Grand Cayman and Cayman Brac, reaffirming the University's commitment to cultivating a student experience grounded in connection, belonging, academic opportunity and holistic support.

The orientation programme marked an important point of entry into university life, providing students with opportunities to engage with faculty, staff and University leadership while gaining a deeper understanding of the academic, personal and professional resources available to support their development and success.

In Grand Cayman, students participated in Student Orientation ahead of the commencement of classes. The programme introduced students to the University's academic community, campus life and student support services, while creating opportunities for them to establish relationships and develop a sense of belonging within the wider UCCI community.

Mr. Gilbert A. McLean, JP, Chairman of the UCCI Board of Governors, addressed students alongside President and Chief Executive Officer Nanalie Cover and Dr. Livingston Smith, Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs and Workforce Education.

Deans from UCCI's academic divisions, together with the Directors of Student Life and Health and Wellness, also engaged with students, highlighting the breadth of academic opportunities and the range of services designed to support students throughout their university journey.

Extending the University Experience to Cayman Brac

UCCI's commitment to an inclusive and connected student experience extended to Cayman Brac, where the University hosted a dedicated orientation for Dual Enrolment students in the Sister Islands.

On 8 August, President and Chief Executive Officer Nanalie Cover and Dr. Livingston Smith, Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs and Workforce Education, travelled to the Cayman Brac Campus to meet with students and faculty, listen to their perspectives and reinforce the academic and student support available to them as members of the wider UCCI community.

"Our students in Cayman Brac are an important part of the UCCI community, and it is essential that they feel connected to the full University experience. Being here gives us the opportunity to listen to our students, understand their aspirations and ensure they know that the support, resources and opportunities of UCCI are available to them wherever they are studying. That sense of connection is central to who we are as one University serving the Cayman Islands," said President Cover.

The orientation also featured virtual contributions from Dr. Patricia Robinson, Registrar; Donnette Goddard, Director of Student Life; and Kai Matthews-Mowatt, Associate Director of Health and Wellness. They provided guidance on academic processes, student engagement, health and wellness, and the learning and support services available to students.

The session was facilitated by Joshua Baker, Deputy Registrar and Manager of the Brac Campus, and provided students with an opportunity to engage directly with members of the UCCI team, raise questions and gain greater insight into the resources and opportunities available throughout their studies.

One University, Across Our Islands

The Cayman Brac engagement reflected a broader principle within UCCI's approach to student experience: the University community is defined not by geography, but by the connections that bind its students, faculty and staff together.

As students pursue their education across the Cayman Islands, maintaining strong institutional connections between Grand Cayman and Cayman Brac remains important to ensuring that students in the Sister Islands can participate meaningfully in university life and access the opportunities, services and support available across UCCI.

In the 2026–2027 academic year, 20 Dual Enrolment students are studying in Cayman Brac, with more than half indicating an interest in continuing their studies with UCCI in Cayman Brac after completing high school.

Their aspirations underscore the importance of accessible pathways to higher education and the value of creating opportunities through which young people can pursue their academic ambitions while remaining connected to their families and communities.

For UCCI, access to higher education represents more than an opportunity to earn a qualification. It is part of a broader institutional commitment to creating an environment in which students are encouraged to discover their potential, cultivate their talents, pursue knowledge and develop the confidence and capabilities necessary to contribute meaningfully to their communities and the wider society.

The beginning of the 2026–2027 academic year therefore represented more than a return to the classroom. It marked the beginning of another chapter in the academic journeys of UCCI's students, one characterised by learning, discovery, relationship-building and the pursuit of academic, professional and personal aspirations.

As students across Grand Cayman and Cayman Brac commence the new academic year, UCCI remains committed to accompanying them throughout their educational journeys and to strengthening the relationships that connect its students, faculty and staff as ONE UCCI, across our Islands.

Ten CBC Officers Complete Specialised Operational Training in Cayman Brac

Ten officers from the Cayman Islands Customs and Border Control Service (CBC) have successfully completed specialised operational training in Cayman Brac, as part of CBC's continued commitment to strengthening professional standards, operational capability and financial crime enforcement across the organisation.

The training, delivered by CBC's Anti-Money Laundering Unit (AMLU), focused on Professional Standards and Ethics; Anti-Money Laundering, Countering the Financing of Terrorism and Proliferation Financing (AML/CFT/PF); and Targeted Financial Sanctions (TFS).

Officers received practical instruction on professional conduct, integrity, accountability, confidentiality and ethical decision-making. The programme also strengthened their understanding of key AML/CFT/PF principles and the frameworks established by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF).

Operational areas covered included trade-based money laundering, cross-border cash risks, cash detention and seizure procedures, suspicious activity reporting, investigative indicators and referral procedures. The training also examined CBC's important role in supporting the Cayman Islands' wider efforts to combat financial crime and protect national security.

Officers received specialised instruction on Targeted Financial Sanctions and completed an operational competency assessment designed to reinforce their understanding and practical application of the material.

Minister for District Administration and Home Affairs, Hon. Nickolas DaCosta, welcomed the continued investment in strengthening CBC's capabilities. "Investing in the capacity and professional development of our Customs and Border Control Officers strengthens not only our operational readiness, but also the Cayman Islands' reputation as a jurisdiction committed to strong AML/CFT standards. Building expertise across our teams and ensuring officers are equipped to identify and respond to financial crime risks demonstrates our continued commitment to international best practices, robust border controls and the protection of our financial system. Importantly, delivering this training in the Sister Islands demonstrates our commitment to equitable service delivery and ensuring that officers across all three Islands have the knowledge, skills and capacity to effectively support CBC's mandate." Director of CBC, Marlon Bodden, who also participated in delivering the training, said, "Continuous professional development is fundamental to building a capable, resilient and high-performing Customs and Border Control Service. Our officers must have the knowledge, judgement and operational skills required to respond effectively to an increasingly complex border security and financial crime environment.

As part of my strategic priorities for CBC, there will be a sustained focus on training and capacity building across the department. We will continue to provide officers at all levels with the requisite knowledge, skills and competencies to carry out their functions effectively, professionally and with the highest standards of integrity and accountability.

I am particularly pleased that this training was delivered in Cayman Brac. It is important that officers across all locations have access to meaningful development opportunities and are equally equipped to contribute to CBC's mandate of protecting the Cayman Islands' borders and supporting national security." The Acting Assistant Director in charge of Cayman Brac, Devin Tatum also welcomed the training, noting the value of providing specialised professional development opportunities to officers in the Sister Islands. "This training was a valuable opportunity for our officers in Cayman Brac to strengthen our knowledge and practical skills in areas that are increasingly important to CBC's work. Providing specialised training locally ensures that we remain equipped, confident and prepared to respond effectively to the operational challenges we may encounter.

We thank Director Bodden and the other facilitators for delivering this important training and appreciate the continued investment in the professional development of officers in the Sister Islands. These opportunities are invaluable in strengthening the capacity of our team and enhancing CBC's capabilities." The training was facilitated by CBC personnel, including Director Marlon Bodden, Supervisor Martin Bodden Jr., and Compliance Officers Livingston Bailey and Cameca Parker, with contributions from Statistician Luisa McLaughlin.

The two days training concluded on 1 September 2026 with a reception and presentation of certificates at The Alexander Hotel in Cayman Brac, recognising the officers' successful completion of the training.

CBC remains committed to investing in its personnel through continuous training and professional development, ensuring officers throughout the Cayman Islands are equipped to respond effectively to evolving border security and national security risks.

MRCU Launches Aerial Larviciding Operation Across Grand Cayman

The operation will begin in West Bay and progressively move east across the island. It is expected to take approximately one week to complete, weather permitting. During the operation, residents will see MRCU's aircraft flying at low altitude during the daytime and making multiple passes over treatment areas.

The Mosquito Research and Control Unit (MRCU) will begin island-wide aerial larviciding across Grand Cayman today, Friday, 11 September 2026.

The operation will begin in West Bay and progressively move east across the island. It is expected to take approximately one week to complete, weather permitting. Following the completion of aerial larviciding in Grand Cayman, MRCU will then carry out treatment operations in the Sister Islands.

During the operation, residents will see MRCU's aircraft flying at low altitude during the daytime and making multiple passes over treatment areas. These repeated passes are necessary to ensure effective and thorough coverage of mosquito breeding areas.

MRCU understands that seeing an aircraft flying at a low altitude can sometimes cause concern. MRCU pilots are specially trained to carry out this type of work, and operating at a low altitude is necessary to ensure the larvicide is accurately applied to the areas being treated.

The product being used for this operation is Natular G30, a granular larvicide used to target mosquito larvae before they develop into biting adults.

Information on Natular G30 and all other products used by MRCU, including product labels and Safety Data Sheets, is available on the MRCU website at: <https://gov.ky/web/mrcu/products>.

Recent rainfall has also created additional opportunities for mosquitoes to breed around homes and properties. MRCU encourages residents to walk around their property at least once a week and empty, turn over or dispose of anything holding water. Even small amounts of standing water can provide a place for mosquitoes to breed.

Weather conditions, including rain and wind, may affect the progress of the aerial operation.

MRCU's mosquito control work supports the Cayman Islands Government's Broad Outcome for Health and Social Development, which aims to achieve "Healthy and Empowered People with Improved Quality of Life for All Ages." Through ongoing mosquito surveillance, prevention and control, MRCU works to protect public health and support the wellbeing and quality of life of residents and visitors.

MRCU thanks the public for its co-operation and understanding as teams continue working to reduce mosquito populations across Grand Cayman.

HAITI REFUGEE CRISIS FEATURES IN UK OT MINISTER'S CARIBBEAN TRIP

and climate resilience. Discussions also covered the impact of instability in Haiti on Caribbean nations and UK Overseas Territories."

According to the statement, the visit strengthens the UK's partnership with the Dominican Republic with discussions covering shared priorities including infrastructure, investment, climate resilience, women and girls, and stability in Haiti.

That country has been rocked by gang and political violence, with elections planned for last month now rescheduled to December. If the poll goes ahead, it will be Haiti's first general election in 10 years. Its last president, Jovenel Moise, was assassinated in 2021, after delaying a vote.

WORSENING REFUGEE CRISIS

The worsening situation has resulted in another wave of refugees fleeing the country, with many turning up in the Turks and Caicos Islands, which already has a large Haitian migrant community.

Already this year, over 1,300 Haitian migrants have arrived in the TCI by boat on the journey of around 100 miles. In the past week alone, TCI maritime border patrol intercepted a small boat with 93 Haitian migrants on board.

Further compounding the Haitian migrant crisis is the recent US Trump administration's policy to withdraw Temporary Protected Status (TPS) for Haitian refugees, with many now being forcibly returned to the country.

On the visit to the Dominican Republic, the UK OTs and Caribbean Minister, Uma Kumaran, was also due to meet representatives from the United Nations, security partners and regional organisations. "Discussions will focus on security and stability in Haiti, where gang violence continues to drive humanitarian needs and migration pressures across the region, including in UK Overseas Territories. The UK is working with partners to address these challenges. This includes support for human rights in Haiti, efforts to tackle organised crime and trafficking, and international initiatives to help create the conditions for long-term stability and credible elections."

The UK recently announced £5.6 million (US$7.5 million) over 2 years to support human rights compliance by the Gang Suppression Force. The programme will be delivered through the UN Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR).

Minister Uma Kumaran said: "The UK and the Dominican Republic are close partners, working together to support stability in Haiti, strengthen regional security, and unlock opportunities for growth and investment."

PARBO UPDATE IN UK PARLIAMENT

With uncertainty still surrounding the status of the controversial Public Access to Registers of Beneficial Ownership (PAR-BO) legislation, the British government's recently appointed Minister for the Overseas Territories, Uma Kumaran, has sought to provide clarity on the issue.

She was responding on behalf of the new Foreign Secretary, Ed Miliband, to a series of questions on the matter raised earlier this month in the UK Parliament/ House of Commons.

A main sticking point over the PARBO law is the insistence by Cayman and several other OTs that it should be replaced by Legitimate Interest Access (LIA) to gain information about certain details of the ownership of companies registered in their offshore financial centre jurisdictions. A fee to access that information is also included in the LIA as a requirement.

Although the questions were specifically about the situation in the Turks and Caicos Islands (TCI), the core issue of 'Legitimate Interest Access' (LIA) also applies to Cayman and other territories which have been pressing for that approach.

According to Minister Kumaran: "Establishing wider access to beneficial ownership data including to those with a legitimate interest - is a step forward towards enabling greater scrutiny of illicit finance. The UK welcomed Turks and Caicos Islands' (TCI) Legitimate Interest Access (LIA) Register of Beneficial Ownership when it launched in 2025. But we are clear that there is more work to be done."

In responding to the questions from Labour Party MP Bell Ribeiro-Addy, Min. Kumaran went on to explain: "We are working with TCI and other Overseas Territories (OTs) to ensure those with LIA registers provide the maximum possible degree of access and transparency, whilst protecting the right to privacy in line with each OT's respective constitutions. Fee rates are part of this discussion. The UK's expectation remains for the OTs and Crown Dependencies to establish fully public registers of beneficial ownership."

Further outlining the current UK Labour government's stance on the matter, Min. Kumaran added: "The UK is committed to expanding economic cooperation with the OTs. Sustainable economic prosperity is important to the whole UK family. The FCDO co-convened an OT Trade and Investment Study Visit in March 2026, bringing together senior representatives from across the OTs - including from TCI - to strengthen awareness of UK capabilities, and give our support to commercial partnerships and economic development opportunities. The UK Government remains available to provide advice and technical support where requested."

In recent years, both Conservative and Labour Party governments have been threatening to impose the PARBO law on non-conforming territories. The last deadline to implement the original version was this summer, but negotiations over the LIA alternative have been ongoing.

According to the new UK OTs Minister: "We regularly raise our expectations on publicly accessible and legitimate interest access registers of beneficial ownership with OTs and Crown Dependencies."

Rams mount charge to Super Bowl

Gridiron fans in the Cayman Islands are pumped for the new NFL season which kicks off Wednesday.

It's a Super Bowl rematch featuring the reigning champions Seattle Seahawks hosting the New England Patriots.

Then, on Thursday, the NFL has its first-ever regular-season game in Australia, where the Los Angeles Rams face the San Francisco 49ers.

The Rams are the favourites to reach Super Bowl LXI on February 14 at SoFi Stadium in Inglewood, California. Their passing game is their main strength. There are several options to choose from on this star-studded roster, but it's hard not to pick the reigning MVP, quarterback Matthew Stafford.

He is coming off the best season of his career and will again have one of the best receiver pairs in the NFL in Davante Adams and Puka Nacua. Last season, Adams led the league with 14 receiving touchdowns, and Nacua led the NFL with 129 catches.

New England reached the Super Bowl in what was viewed as a transition year, with quarterback Drake Maye impressing. Maye threw for 4,394 yards with 31 touchdowns and eight interceptions, leading New England to win the AFC East. The Patriots added star wide receiver AJ Brown to the mix, giving Maye a vital key player. And they've also signed Romeo Doubs as well, offering more firepower to this unit.

The Buffalo Bills have in QB Josh Allen an ace. He is going into his ninth NFL season and has a new No. 1 receiver in DJ Moore. Breaking records has become commonplace for the 2024 MVP, and Allen, 30, gives the team a chance in every game.

The Seahawks still have the best defense even though they've lost key players from the unit that conceded the fewest points in the NFL last season. They also have in QB Sam Darnold a consistent performer who has won 14 games in each of the past two seasons.

The Baltimore Ravens have QB Lamar Jackson to rely on. The two-time MVP is their biggest barometer for success.

Pundits predict that the San Francisco 49ers are likely to be the team most likely to reach Super Bowl besides the four already mentioned, followed by the Los Angeles Chargers, Green Bay Packers, Detroit Lions, Kansas City Chiefs and Philadelphia Eagles.

Seville leads Caribbean surge at Diamond final Caribbean athletes excelled again as 32 athletes were crowned 2026 Wanda Diamond League champions at the series final in Brussels over the weekend.

This year's final produced a heady mix of first-time winners, veteran champions and rising stars, with a handful of surprises thrown in for good measure.

They included established stars like 100 metres hurdles world record holder Masai Russell and Jamaica's 100m world champion Oblique Seville as well as upcoming talents such as US pole vaulter Hana Moll and Australian middle-distance ace Cameron Myers.

The likes of St Lucia's Julien Alfred (200m), Emmanuel Wanyonyi and Faith Cherotich

► Oblique Seville cruised to 100m victory extended their already impressive title-winning streaks. Jamaica's Tina Clayton won the women's 100m.

Tiafoe's smashing form suggests big one is close

Fan favourite Frances Tiafoe underlined his title credentials on Sunday at the US Open in New York with a thrilling display.

Tiafoe dispatched the 2021 champion Daniil Medvedev 7-6(1), 6-4, 7-6(6) to earn one of his biggest wins of the season.

The 28-year-old American was pumped up throughout the clash on Louis Armstrong Stadium and played electrifying tennis at times to advance to the quarter-finals in New York for the fourth time and record his Tour-leading 25th hard-court victory of the year.

The two-time US Open semi-finalist, who is chasing his first major title, had lost six of his seven previous meetings with Medvedev before Sunday but was the sharper and more energised of the two throughout to set a last-eight clash with compatriot Alex Michelsen. It was played on Tuesday and even if Tiafoe lost, his form suggests that a Grand Slam victory is still a possibility in the near future.

Deputy Premier Opens the 28th Annual Red Cross Golf Tournament

For 28 years, the Cayman Islands Red Cross (CIRC) Annual Golf Tournament has brought the community together around a shared purpose. On September 4th, 2026, that tradition continued at North Sound Golf Club, as golfers, sponsors and supporters turned out for a day that combined friendly competition with meaningful support for the work of the Red Cross.

This year's event raised more than CI$100,000, funds that will directly sustain CIRC's core programmes: Disaster Management, First Aid & Lifeguarding, Child Protection & Sexuality Education, Support Our Seniors, and the Thrift Shop Community Outreach Programme. Since its founding in 1961, the Cayman Islands Red Cross has stood at the forefront of disaster preparedness and community care, and the continued success of the tournament reflects the generosity of those who help make that work possible.

The day officially got underway with opening remarks from the Hon. Gary Ruty, Deputy Premier, and Minister for Tourism and Trade Development, who took the opportunity to draw particular attention to the impact of one Red Cross programme.

"The work of the Red Cross reaches people when they need it most, and today, I want to give a very special mention and thank you to everyone involved with the Support Our Seniors Programme. Our seniors have given so much to our families, our communities, and our society: they have raised children, built businesses, served their communities, and helped shape the world we live in. They deserve our respect, our gratitude, and our continued support. Today, as we enjoy the friendly golf competition, let us remember that the greatest victory is not the score on the leaderboard. The greatest victory is knowing that our efforts are helping make someone's life a little better."

► The Hon. Deputy Premier, Gary Ruty addressing participants

A longstanding partnership was also celebrated on the day, with CIBC Caribbean once again lending its support to the tournament. Gemel Sobers, Head of Country, reflected on the bank's commitment:

"This year marks CIBC Caribbean's eighth year as title sponsor of this outstanding event, and we are incredibly proud to continue supporting an initiative that has become a hallmark of community partnership and giving in the Cayman Islands."

CIRC Board Member, Hector Robinson, also welcomed guests.

Beyond the competition itself, contributions from local businesses helped make the tournament an occasion for everyone to enjoy. TRAC Automotive raised the stakes on the course with two Hole-in-One prizes—a Changan SUV and a Tunland G9 4x4—while Foster's Food Fair provided food supplies, and CDG quenched our thirst as Official Beverage Sponsor. Once the final rounds were complete, golfers and guests came together over a BBQ buffet catered by Dining@Home, providing an opportunity to relax, reconnect and celebrate another successful tournament. As in years past, Kirk Freeport generously donated the grand prize to the much-anticipated Raffle.

The breadth of corporate support was on full display. The tournament drew participation from 44 companies, including Platinum Tee Sponsors, IDG, CG BritCay, and Wheaton Precious Metals, and Gold Tee Sponsors, Rhulens, CaymanFirst Insurance, Cayman Water Company, BDO, Alvarez & Marsal, BAF Insurance, Friends of the Red Cross, Elite Marble and Granite, Health City, Heritage Holdings, Maples Group, RSM, Knight Security, CINICO, Calderwood, RF Bank and Trust, and CUC. Eighteen Silver Hole Sponsors rounded out the generous support from our corporate community.

Of course, there were bragging rights on the line as well. Taking home first place was the Calderwood team—consistently placing in the top-three most years, and represented this year by Ronan Guilfoyle, Todd Hazelwood, Senan Kemp, and James Murrie.

Second place was secured by Hawkford's Jeremy Durston, Kevin Johnson, Leo Kassam, and Jon Marrs.

Third place went to the TRAC Automotive team of Allen Bernardo, Nigel Kellow, Phil Ruffolo, and Samantha Widmer.

Course Contest Winners:

Closest to the Pin #5 (Women) - S Widmer

Closest to the Pin #5 (Men) - J Durston

Closest to the Pin #9 (Women) - L Laurenson

Closest to the Pin #9 (Men) - K Johnson

Long Drive #2 (Women) - M Veldhoven

Long Drive #12 (Men) - D Holland

By the end of the day, the scores told only part of the story. The tournament's real success could be seen in the many businesses, individuals and teams who chose to lend their time and support to the Cayman Islands Red Cross and the people it serves.

That collective commitment is what has sustained the tournament for 28 years and sustained the work of the Cayman Islands Red Cross since 1961. Celebrating its 65th anniversary of service, the CIRC continues its work across the Cayman Islands—strengthening community resilience, supporting vulnerable people and ensuring the organisation is ready to respond when help is needed most.

ASSISTANT MANAGER – HR ONBOARDING & TRAINING

WORC ID# M8C3S8

Full-time: East End and Camana Bay

Salary: USD$ 4,500 to 5,500

Job Family / Grade: HR Operations | Specialist Level (Assistant Manager)

JOB SUMMARY:

The Assistant Manager – HR Onboarding & Training (HR Onboarding & Training Specialist) owns two interlinked pillars of the employee lifecycle: the seamless onboarding of every new joiner, and the end-to-end management of organizational learning and development. The role ensures that each new hire experiences a well-coordinated, dignified and fully prepared entry into the organization, while driving a structured, compliant and continuously improving training function across the hospital.

The incumbent works in close partnership with the on-island Talent Acquisition / recruitment team — receiving confirmed joiners at the point of selection and converting recruitment outcomes into a smooth, fully prepared joining experience — and coordinates across IT, Security, Facilities, Transportation, Accommodation and the receiving departments.

Operating within a JCI-accredited tertiary care environment, the role carries strong accountability for regulatory alignment, standardization, competency assurance and a positive early-employee experience that reinforces the organization's culture of quality, safety and service excellence.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. New-Staff Onboarding — End-to-End Journey (Core Accountability)

Serve as the single point of coordination across the full onboarding journey, from recruitment handover to confirmation:

- Handover from recruitment: receive confirmed-joiner details from the on-island Talent Acquisition / recruitment team (and the India-based recruitment team where applicable) and open an onboarding record for each joiner.
- Pre-arrival readiness: prepare and arrange, in advance of the joining date, all onboarding essentials — Employee ID cards, access/security cards, and meal or amenity cards; joining kits and welcome materials; and the allocation and readiness of workstation, seating, equipment, IT access and department-specific resources.
- Logistics coordination: liaise proactively with IT, Security, Facilities, Transportation, Accommodation and the receiving department to confirm all logistics are complete ahead of arrival, including timely handover of joining kits to the transportation team where applicable.
- Pre-employment gatekeeping: coordinate with recruitment, immigration and documentation teams to confirm that pre-employment documentation, council registration and work-permit requirements are complete before the joiner reports to duty.
- Joining day: act as the first friendly point of contact; welcome the new hire; and coordinate collection, verification and filing of joining documentation, credentials and statutory records in line with hospital policy and Cayman Islands employment law.
- First days and weeks: guide the new hire through their initial period, arrange department introductions, and ensure a smooth, welcoming transition.
- Tracking and escalation: maintain a live onboarding tracker / checklist for each joiner, monitor status against defined turnaround timelines, and escalate gaps promptly.
- Probation and confirmation touchpoints: coordinate with line managers on probation orientation and confirmation milestones for each joiner.
- Experience and improvement: capture new-joiner feedback on the onboarding experience and drive continuous improvement of the process.

2. Training & Development — End-to-End Lifecycle (Core Accountability)

Manage the full training lifecycle, from needs identification through delivery, evaluation and record-keeping:

- Training needs assessment: collaborate with clinical and non-clinical departments to conduct training needs assessments and build a consolidated annual training calendar.
- Orientation and induction: plan, schedule and deliver new-joiner orientation and induction programmes, ensuring every employee completes mandatory onboarding training aligned to JCI and organizational standards.
- Mandatory and statutory training: coordinate and track mandatory, statutory and refresher training — including patient safety, infection control, fire and life safety, code/emergency responses, BLS and role-specific competencies.
- Learning Management System (LMS): administer the organization's LMS — uploading and maintaining content, enrolling and assigning learners, tracking completion, and generating compliance and progress reports.
- E-learning design: design, build and maintain online and e-learning modules, converting classroom and policy-based content into engaging digital learning aligned to organizational and accreditation standards.
- Records and audit-readiness: own and maintain all training documentation in full compliance with JCI requirements, ensuring staff training files, competency records and evidence of completion are complete, accurate and survey-ready at all times.
- Evaluation and reporting: design and administer training evaluation, measure effectiveness, and report on completion rates and outcomes to HR leadership.
- Learning pathways: support the development of training content and job-specific learning pathways in partnership with departmental leaders.

3. Interface with Recruitment & On-Island Teams

- Work closely with the on-island Talent Acquisition / recruitment team to receive selected candidates and align pre-arrival onboarding activities.
- Coordinate with IT, Security, Facilities, Transportation, Accommodation and receiving departments to ensure joining-day readiness.
- Coordinate with the Offshore-based HR, recruitment and documentation teams where required to complete pre-employment and onboarding requirements on time.

4. General HR Support & Compliance

- Ensure all onboarding and training activities comply with the Cayman Islands Labour Act, data-protection requirements and applicable regulations.
- Prepare periodic dashboards and reports on onboarding turnaround times and training compliance for HR management review.
- Contribute to HR projects, policy updates and process-improvement initiatives as directed by the General Manager – Human Resources.

5. Accreditation & Quality Compliance (JCI SQE)

- Maintain audit-ready onboarding, training, competency and orientation documentation in line with JCI Standards – SQE.
- Participate in accreditation surveys and internal quality reviews and implement corrective actions arising from findings.

QUALIFICATION, LICENSURE, EDUCATION, EXPERIENCE & SPECIAL SKILLS:

- Bachelor's degree in Human Resources, Business Administration, Organizational Development or a related field; a relevant postgraduate qualification (e.g. MBA/MHA) is an advantage.
- Professional HR certification (e.g. CIPD, SHRM-CP or equivalent) preferred.
- Minimum of 3–5 years of HR experience, with demonstrable exposure to onboarding and/or learning-and-development functions.
- Prior experience within a hospital, healthcare or JCI-accredited environment is strongly preferred.
- Working knowledge of Cayman Islands employment legislation, or the ability to acquire it quickly.
- Proficiency in MS Office (Excel, PowerPoint, Word) and familiarity with HRIS / learning-management systems.

- Discretion and integrity in handling confidential employee information.
