University Fair and Careers Day at The Cayman Prep and High School

By Stuart Wilson

Students at Cayman Prep and High School were able to meet with representatives from various universities around the world at a special event held at the school's campus on Walkers Road on 12th November, 2026.

The day provided an opportunity for pupils to learn firsthand what the overseas institutions had to offer and to engage with university recruiters.

The event featured representatives from universities across the United Kingdom, United States and Canada, giving students a chance to explore higher education options, consider different study destinations and engage directly with admissions officials.

A key highlight was a student-led roundtable discussion, during which university representatives shared valuable insights into

Police Investigate Fatal Two-Vehicle Collision on South Church Street

At approximately 12:40AM, on Saturday, 14 November, police and other emergency services were dispatched by the 9-1-1 Communications Centre to a report of a two-vehicle collision involving a silver Camry and a blue Volkswagen on South Church Street, between Glen Eden Drive and Denham Thompson Way

Five individuals, the driver and three occupants of the blue Volkswagen and the driver of the silver Camry, were transported to hospital following the collision. Four of them remain at the hospital in serious condition and one individual, a 39-year-old man who resided in George Town, has been pronounced deceased by the attending doctor. Following the fatal collision, South Church Street, between Glen Eden Drive and Denham Thompson Way, remains closed to vehicular and pedestrian traffic. A police cordon is in place while officers process the scene. Motorists traveling from George Town are being diverted to Melmac Avenue and motorists traveling from South Sound Road are being diverted to Denham Thompson Way onto Walker's Road. Anyone believed to have witnessed the collision is encouraged to call the George Town Police Station at 949-4222. The collision is being investigated by the Traffic and Roads Policing Unit.

RCIPS Cautions Against Carrying Weapons

The RCIPS notes an increase in reports of individuals in possession of restricted weapons at entertainment venues during the nighttime. In some cases, these weapons have reportedly been used to intimidate or to assault others.

RCIPS reminds the public that it is an offence to carry a weapon outside one's residence, whether during the day or at night. Section 78 of the Penal Code (2026) defines prohibited, offensive and restricted weapons as objects made or adapted to cause injury or carried with the intention of using them to injure someone. These include daggers, flick knives, firearms, gravity knives, machetes, knives, softball bats, baseball bats, cricket bats, blackjacks, bludgeons, crossbows and knuckle dusters, and similar objects that can be used to cause injury.

These weapons are strictly prohibited at bars, clubs, restaurants, cinemas, theatres, recreation halls and other public spaces, and on the grounds and in the car parks of commercial premises, event venues, including in or on vehicles on the premises.

Anyone found in possession of an offensive weapon at a public venue is liable to a fine of CI$5,000 and imprisonment for four years.

The RCIPS encourages everyone to be mindful of their conduct when out at night and to resolve disputes peacefully.

Members of the public who may observe someone carrying a weapon are encouraged to report it to the police immediately. Event organisers are also encouraged to review their security procedures to prevent patrons from entering venues at night with restricted or potentially offensive weapons.

The RCIPS thanks members of the community for continuing to partner with the police to keep the Cayman Islands safe.

Police Investigate Theft Incident in George Town

Shortly after 5:30PM on Thursday, 12 November, officers responded to a report of theft at a commercial premises on Huldah Avenue in George Town.

It is reported that an employee of a food stall was alerted to suspicious noise on the outside of the premises.

The employee looked outside and observed another employee struggling with a man, unknown to them and alerted other individuals to assist. The man had stolen bags belonging to the employees, a quantity of cash and a personal item before fleeing the location.

It is reported that members of the public attempted to apprehend the suspect by chasing after him on foot, but he escaped them. There was a struggle during this incident but the victim did not require medical assistance.

Upon arrival, officers carried out an extensive search of the immediate area but did not locate the suspect.

The police are appealing to anyone who may have witnessed the incident to contact the George Town Police Station at 949-4222.

admission requirements, campus life and emerging developments in higher education.

"Today we have the Cayman Islands' first university fair, where students can come and find out about different pathways and destinations that are available to all of our students, Caymanian and non-Caymanian," noted Head of Sixth Form at Cayman Prep and High School, Mrs. Sama Ahmad.

"A lot of our students don't always get to travel to all the campuses they are thinking about applying to. So, to bring those universities to them here, so that everyone has the same opportunities, is really important," she added.

Head of Year 12 at Cayman Prep and High School, Mrs. Laura Knox, said she hoped the initiative would continue to grow over time, attracting an increasing number of universities.

"We need to put the Cayman Islands on the map for the recruiting departments of these schools," she remarked.

Mrs. Knox explained that the school was building stronger relationships with universities over time.

"For some of them, this is not their first time on the Island, but it is the first time that they are here with all the other universities. It's great for them as well, and they know that the students who come from Cayman are usually the students who are going to do really well."

"Another great thing is that because the government does so much in providing scholarships for studies overseas, it actually benefits the universities because they know funding will be provided. So, it's a great place to recruit. We just have to let them know about it," she added.

Both teachers emphasised the importance of students familiarising themselves not only with the subjects they intend to study, but also with the campuses and their locations, whether in a city or a more rural setting.

Students also had an opportunity to learn about various careers, including positions within the Royal Cayman Islands Police Service and the Cayman Islands Fire Service. This complemented the academic exposure, effectively combining a careers day and university fair into one event.

Mr. Handel Whittaker, Chairman of the Board of Governors at Cayman Prep and High School and a proud grandfather of two students at the school, noted the importance of providing such opportunities for young people.

"What we are trying to accomplish here is to open up an avenue for our students who want to go overseas to further their studies. This is a golden opportunity for our students and other students to make that choice about where they want to go in the future."

Remembrance Sunday Commemorations Honour Legacy and Service

By: CIG Public Relations Unit

On Sunday, 8 November 2026, Remembrance Sunday parades and ceremonies were held at the Cenotaph at Elmslie Memorial Church in Grand Cayman and the Cenotaph on the District Administration Lawn in Cayman Brac, honouring the legacy, courage and sacrifice of those who served in the armed forces.

Government officials, veterans, members of the uniformed services and members of the public gathered in solemn reflection to pay tribute to those who fought to defend freedom and democracy.

Both ceremonies featured religious services and the laying of red poppy wreaths, an enduring symbol of remembrance and sacrifice.

In Grand Cayman, the ceremony was led by Reverend Donovan Myers, who offered prayers and reflections in honour of those who served and made the ultimate sacrifice during times of conflict.

A special tribute was also paid to the late veteran Mr. Graham Walker, recognising his service and longstanding commitment to preserving the legacy of Caymanian veterans. A former Royal Air Force radio engineer who served during the 1956 Suez Canal Crisis, Mr. Walker also served for many years as Secretary of the Cayman Islands Veterans Association (CIVA) and was a dedicated advocate for ensuring that the contributions of Caymanian veterans were remembered.

Reflecting on the tribute, CIVA President Mr. Andrew McLaughlin, highlighted Mr. Walker's lasting impact on the veterans' community and the importance of preserving the stories of those who served.

"We pay a special tribute to Mr. Graham Walker, whose steadfast dedication to Veterans in the Cayman Islands helped ensure that the stories of their service and the sacrifices they made were never forgotten. His commitment to remembrance continues to inspire us, and we honour his memory by continuing the work he cared so deeply about," he said.

In Cayman Brac, the Minister for District Administration and Home Affairs, Hon. Nickolas DaCosta, was accompanied by District Commissioner BL. (Mark) Tibbetts Jr, and Superintendent Wendy Parchment in inspecting the Guard of Honour. Prayers were offered by Pastor Thomas French of the Church of God Cotton Tree Bay and Pastor Cody Pancamo of Stake Bay Baptist Church.

In his remarks, Minister DaCosta reflected on the significance of Remembrance Sunday and the importance of ensuring that the sacrifices of veterans are recognised beyond the annual commemorations.

"Remembrance Sunday is more than a ceremony. It is a moment to honour the men and women who answered the call to serve, to remember those who never returned, and to recognise the sacrifices borne by their families. We owe them more than our gratitude for one day. We owe them a commitment to ensure that their stories, their courage, and their service are never forgotten by the generations that follow," he said.

The Premier, Hon. André Ebanks, also encouraged Caymanians to reflect on the sacrifices made by those who served and the collective responsibility to uphold the values for which they stood.

"Remembrance Sunday gives us an opportunity to pause and consider the profound sacrifices made in service of others. As we honour our veterans, we are reminded of the importance of preserving peace, strengthening our unity as a country, and ensuring that the lessons of history continue to guide future generations," he said.

As the nation paused in collective remembrance, attendees were reminded of the courage and selflessness demonstrated by Caymanians and all those who served during times of war and conflict. The commemorations reaffirmed the Cayman Islands' continued commitment to honouring veterans and preserving their legacy for future generations.

Health City Cayman Islands recommended for JCI Enterprise reaccreditation following comprehensive assessment

Health City Cayman Islands has been recommended for reaccreditation by Joint Commission International (JCI) following a comprehensive assessment of its two hospitals in East End and Camana Bay and its clinic in Camana Bay in October 2026.

Health City first achieved JCI accreditation in May 2015, just one year after opening, becoming only the second hospital in the Caribbean to receive the distinction. In 2023, it became the first hospital in the Caribbean to be recognized under JCI Enterprise Accreditation as part of the Narayana Health network.

JCI is a globally recognized healthcare accreditation organization that evaluates hospitals against rigorous international standards for patient safety, clinical care and organizational performance. Its independent assessments cover areas including infection prevention and control, medication management, patient rights and quality improvement, providing patients with assurance of a healthcare facility's commitment to safe, high-quality care.

Dr. Binoy Chattuparambil, clinical director at Health City Cayman Islands, said the recommendation reflects the collective efforts of the organization's staff.

"Since opening in 2014, we have continued to expand the range and complexity of care available in the Cayman Islands, including specialized treatments and procedures that previously required patients to travel overseas. As our capabilities grow, so does our responsibility to ensure that every service meets the highest standards of quality and patient safety. This recommendation is an important recognition of the work our teams do every day to uphold those standards and deliver the best possible care to our patients."

Health City's clinical performance indicators further demonstrate this commitment. In 2025, the organization recorded a hospital-acquired infection rate of 1.04% and a surgical site infection rate of 0.95%, both below published benchmarks of 3-7% and 2-4%, respectively. Hand hygiene compliance reached 97.68%, exceeding the 90% benchmark.

Health City has evolved into a tertiary center of excellence, providing an extensive range of specialized services, including cardiology, cardiovascular and thoracic surgery, orthopedics and sports medicine, neurology, neurosurgery, oncology, gastroenterology, pulmonology, urology, maternity and neonatal care. The opening of Health City at Camana Bay in 2024 further strengthened local healthcare capacity, introducing additional emergency and urgent care facilities, along with maternity, neonatal and pediatric services. Its maternity program recently celebrated the delivery of its 100th baby, while its Level III Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) provides specialized care for premature and critically ill newborns.

The organization has also continued to introduce advanced medical technologies and treatment options. In 2026, Health City performed its first robotic cardiac surgery, introduced pulsed field ablation (PFA) for atrial fibrillation and launched NeuroQuant, an artificial intelligence-supported technology for advanced brain MRI analysis. Investment in the future healthcare workforce also remains a priority. This year, Health City reintroduced the Dr. Devi Shetty Fellowship, providing three Caymanian students with the opportunity to spend a month at Narayana Health facilities in Bangalore, India.

Shomari Scott, chief business officer at Health City Cayman Islands, said the recommendation is particularly significant as it reflects the organization's ability to maintain internationally recognized standards of care while expanding its facilities and specialized services.

"When Health City first achieved JCI accreditation in 2015, we had been operating for just one year. More than a decade later, we have grown into a network of healthcare facilities offering some of the most advanced medical services in the region, while continuing to uphold the same internationally recognized standards. For us, this recommendation is particularly significant because it demonstrates that our commitment to quality and patient safety has remained a priority throughout our growth. It also reinforces the confidence that patients and their families can have in the care they receive at Health City."

Health City remains committed to expanding access to high-quality, patient-centered care, reducing the need for overseas treatment and supporting the continued development of healthcare in the Cayman Islands and across the region.

HSA Maternity Welcomes Triplets, Historic Same-day Births at Faith Hospital

Joy filled the Maternity Unit at the Anthony S. Eden Hospital following the successful delivery of triplets to a new mother.

The three girls, weighing 3 lbs 13 oz, 3 lbs 4 oz and 3 lbs 5oz, were delivered safely under the care of a multidisciplinary team that included obstetricians, a neonatologist, a paediatrician, midwives and Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) nurses. The babies were admitted to the NICU for further observation.

Proud mother Marykarla Diaz expressed delight at the birth of her daughters. "The delivery was very smooth and fast. I am very grateful to all the staff - the nurses, the doctor, the neonatologist. Everybody was amazing and very helpful. It has been a great experience with HSA," she noted.

The last triplet delivery at Cayman Islands Health Services Authority (HSA) took place in 2015.

HSA's Faith Hospital also celebrated a historic milestone with the delivery of three babies in one day, the first time this has occurred at the hospital.

Facilitating the delivery of three births took special coordination, as Dr Karen Campbell-Simpson, Obstetrician and Gynaecologist at Faith Hospital, noted, "the initial delivery was an elective caesarean section, and so was scheduled for that morning. While preparing for that delivery, the second patient arrived, and she was assessed before commencing the caesarean section. While finishing the first delivery, the third patient arrived. All deliveries took place within five hours. We thank God and the hard-working Faith Hospital team of midwives, paediatrician, anesthesiologist and supporting staff who all assisted in the success of this special day."

Of the three births, two babies were discharged home with their mothers, while the other baby was transferred to the Anthony S. Eden Hospital's NICU in Grand Cayman for treatment.

Ms. Tanika Wright, mother of Saylor, who required an emergency Caesarean section, expressed her heartfelt gratitude for the care and management she received from the medical and nursing team. She shared, "Drs. Campbell, Madisa, Moxam, and the nursing team kept me informed throughout the entire process. They clearly explained what was happening, outlined the plan of care, and acted swiftly to ensure the best possible outcome. The procedure went well, and I am extremely grateful for their professionalism, timely intervention, and compassionate care".

For Mother Leanna Jackson, returning to Faith Hospital for the birth of her second child was a reassuring and comforting experience. Reflecting on her delivery, she noted, "this was the first delivery with Dr. Campbell, and I felt heard, understood and comfortable with my nurses and doctors. I was informed at each step, and both dad and I are satisfied with the service of HSA and are now enjoying a beautiful newborn at home, and I would like to thank the doctors and nurses that assisted with my delivery, and I would recommend not only HSA but Dr Campbell."

Director for Sister Islands, Dr Srirangan Velusamy, is encouraged to see the growing confidence among expectant mothers in choosing to deliver closer to home, noting that "this milestone is a testament to the dedication of our obstetric, paediatric, nursing and support teams and reflects our ongoing commitment to strengthening maternity services for the Sister Islands community. I'm proud of the team who rose to the challenge that day."

"This is a wonderful celebration for these families, and I'm proud of our team during such extraordinary circumstances, providing a safe delivery for all," stated Lizzette Yearwood, HSA's CEO. "The successful outcome highlights the expertise and dedication of our maternity units in providing comprehensive care for mothers across the islands."

The HSA offers an eight-week complimentary ParentCraft class for expectant parents who may have questions about pregnancy and caring for an infant.

GIS Day 2026 to Introduce 200 Students to the Power of Geospatial Innovation

The Ministry of Planning, Lands, Agriculture, Housing & Infrastructure (PLAHI), through the Lands & Survey Department, will host the GIS Day 2026 Student Forum on Wednesday, 18 November 2026, at the John Gray High School Gymnasium.

Organised in collaboration with the Ministry of Education and Training, Department of Environment, Department of Planning and Hazard Management Cayman Islands, the forum will bring together approximately 200 secondary-school students from across the Cayman Islands.

The event will be held under the international GIS Day 2026 theme, "GIS: Powering Purpose and Innovation," which recognises the innovators, problem-solvers and storytellers using geospatial technology to address real-world challenges and support meaningful change.

Hon Johany Jay Ebanks

A Geographic Information System, commonly known as GIS, combines location-based information, maps and technology to reveal patterns, relationships and changes that may not be easily identified through traditional data alone.

In the Cayman Islands, GIS supports essential public services and national decision-making, including land registration and surveying, development planning, environmental monitoring, emergency preparedness, infrastructure planning and the management of hazards and natural resources.

Minister for Planning, Lands, Agriculture, Housing & Infrastructure, Hon. Johany "Jay" Ebanks, MP, said

"GIS is already an important part of how we manage land, plan our communities, protect our environment and prepare for emergencies, by introducing students to these tools, we are showing them that maps are not simply used for navigation. When combined with accurate data and innovative technology, they can help us understand challenges, make better decisions and plan responsibly for the future of our Islands. I also want our young Caymanians to recognise geospatial technology as a field in which they can build meaningful and rewarding careers."

Students will learn how GIS, artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies are creating new opportunities and influencing the future of work.

Interactive presentations and demonstrations delivered by GIS professionals from the public and private sectors will highlight practical applications in land administration, environmental stewardship, development planning, hazard management and geospatial artificial intelligence, commonly referred to as GeoAI.

The forum will also introduce students to the educational pathways, technical skills and career opportunities available within the growing geospatial sector.

The event will conclude with awards for the Story Map Photo Tour Competition and Map Gallery Competition, recognising outstanding student work in the Years 7–9 and Years 10–12 categories.

Participating students will also have an opportunity to receive a one-year ArcGIS Personal Use licence to continue developing their GIS skills beyond the forum.

CI Government Q3 2026 Financial Report Gazetted

The Cayman Islands Government's Unaudited Quarterly Financial Report for the Nine-Month Period Ended 30 September 2026 was published in the Cayman Islands Gazette on Friday, 6 November 2026, as required by law.

The unaudited results show a surplus of $134.3 million for Core Government and $142.4 million for the Entire Public Sector (EPS). Government's net assets were $2.7 billion, and its bank account balances, including fixed deposits, totalled $433.7 million.

Surplus

The EPS surplus of $142.4 million was $51.5 million higher than the $90.9 million surplus budgeted for the first nine months of 2026. Core Government revenues were $35.4 million above the year-to-date budget, while total operating, financing and non-operating expenses were $4.6 million below budget. Statutory Authorities and Government Companies (SAGCs) recorded a combined operating surplus of $8.1 million.

Compared with the same period in 2025, the EPS surplus increased by $5.0 million. Core Government revenues were $95.0 million higher, while expenses were $80.1 million higher than in the prior-year period.

Revenues

Core Government generated total revenues of $1.065 billion in the first nine months of 2026. This was $35.4 million above budget and $95.0 million, or 10%, higher than the same period in 2025. Coercive revenues of $1.008 billion were $20.6 million above budget and $94.2 million higher than the prior-year period.

The favourable revenue position reflected strong results in financial services fees, property-related revenues and tourism. Property-related revenues benefited from high-value developments, updated property valuations and the 10% stamp duty rate applied to most transactions above $2 million.

Compared with the first nine months of 2025, property transaction volumes increased by 26.1%, the aggregate value of transactions rose by 48.2%, and average transaction values increased by 17.7%.

Tourist Accommodation Charges were $4.7 million above budget, supported by year-to-date increases of approximately 11% in air arrivals and 4% in cruise arrivals compared with 2025. Financial services fees also exceeded budget, reflecting fee changes and an increase in registrants in several categories.

Some revenue categories remained below budget. Import duties were affected by lower-than-projected import volumes, while Gasoline and Diesel Duty was lower in part because of the temporary fuel duty waiver, which began on 1 June and was later extended through 31 December 2026.

Coercive revenues in the third quarter were $190.3 million, $5.2 million, or 3%, higher than in the third quarter of 2025.

Expenses

Core Government's total operating, financing and non-operating expenses were $931.2 million for the nine-month period. This was $4.6 million below the year-to-date budget, but $80.1 million higher than expenditure in the same period of 2025.

Personnel costs totalled $397.6 million, $29.2 million below budget, mainly because of vacant posts across Ministries, Portfolios and Offices. Supplies and Consumables were $127.8 million, $16.1 million below budget, largely due to lower-than-planned spending on purchased services.

These favourable variances were partly offset by higher-than-budgeted expenditure on outputs from SAGCs ($13.5 million negative variance), outputs from non-governmental suppliers ($10.3 million negative variance) and transfer payments ($25.0 million negative variance). Increased costs included tertiary health care at local and overseas institutions, financial assistance, scholarships and bursaries, and other support payments.

The Q3 Financial Report cautions that savings in personnel costs and supplies may reflect timing differences and may not translate into full-year savings. Costs could rise as vacant posts are filled and delayed projects begin.

Cash Position

At 30 September 2026, Government held $433.7 million in cash and deposits. This comprised $239.7 million in operating bank account balances and $194.0 million in reserve and restricted deposits. The balance included $108.5 million in cash and cash equivalents and $325.2 million in marketable securities, principally fixed deposits.

Government's debt balance was $468.2 million at 30 September 2026, of which $43.0 million was due within one year. Net assets stood at $2.7 billion.

Full-Year Outlook

While the third-quarter results provide a positive outlook, the surplus recorded at 30 September is expected to reduce significantly as planned operating and capital expenditure is implemented during the final quarter.

Conclusion

The Government's results for the first nine months of 2026 show an EPS surplus above budget, supported by revenues exceeding projections and a positive contribution from SAGCs. The financial report also highlights the importance of considering year-to-date results alongside expenditure planned for the remainder of the year.

The Cayman Islands Government's Unaudited Quarterly Financial Report for the Nine-Month Period Ended 30 September 2026 may be found online at: https://gov.ky/w/unaudited-quarterly-financial-report-nine-month-period-ended-30-september-2026-ex81-s3

Cayman Islands Men's National Team set for crucial Concacaf Nations League matches

The Cayman Islands Men's National Team will look to retain its place in League B of the Concacaf Nations League when it travels to Guyana for its final two group-stage matches of the 2026-27 competition later this month.

Concacaf has confirmed that Cayman will face Guyana on Thursday, Nov. 12, before concluding its campaign against Dominica on Tuesday, Nov. 17. Both matches will be played at the Leonora National Track and Field Centre in Guyana, with kickoff scheduled for 2 p.m. Cayman time.

The November window represents an important opportunity for CIMNT, which is competing in League B for the first time after earning promotion from League C during the previous Nations League cycle.

Cayman is seeking to avoid relegation and maintain its place in the competition's second tier. Under the Nations League format, the fourth-place team in each of League B's four groups will be relegated to League C, while group winners earn promotion to League A.

Cayman began its historic League B campaign with a scoreless draw against Dominica in September before suffering defeats to Guyana and Puerto Rico during the opening international window.

With two matches remaining, CIMNT will be looking to finish its campaign strongly and secure the results needed to remain in League B.

"We knew coming into League B that the level of competition would be higher and that every match would present a challenge," CIMNT Head Coach Dougie Rowe said. "We've gained valuable experience from our first four matches, and now our focus is on making the most of these final two opportunities.

"Staying in League B is important for the continued development of this national team. We worked hard to earn promotion, and we want to establish ourselves at this level. The players understand what's at stake, and we'll be doing everything we can to finish the campaign on a positive note."

Cayman is competing in Group A alongside Guyana, Puerto Rico and Dominica, with each team playing six matches across the September-October and November international windows.

The November fixtures will conclude the group stage, determining which teams earn promotion to League A, which retain their League B status and which are relegated to League C.

The competition also serves as a qualification pathway for the 2027 Concacaf Gold Cup. The four League B group winners will qualify directly for the tournament, while the two best second-place finishers will advance to the Gold Cup Prelims.

BEACH ACCESS DEBATE HITS HIGH TIDE IN ANTIGUA AND BARBADOS

An issue as certain as the ebb and flow of the Caribbean tides has resurfaced: public access to beaches. This time it's in Antigua & Barbuda and Barbados, following recent demonstrations against restricted public access to beaches in Jamaica, French St Martin, Guadeloupe, and Martinique.

While laws vary from country to country on the issue, in Antigua and Barbuda Prime Minister Gaston Browne has supported a campaign - led by some of his opponents - against restrictions to one of the island's popular beaches.

ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA

Speaking on his regular weekend radio programme, The Browne and Browne Show on Pointe FM, the prime minister disclosed that he had turned down a request from an investor to close access to one of the island's beaches where they are developing a property.

"We had an issue recently too with a member of the Rothschild family that wanted an access closed, and we said no. I said that's the law, and there must be access," Prime Minister Browne stated.

On the general issue of public access to beaches in the popular tourist destination, Mr Browne reminded that he was "on public record as saying that we need to do better with beach access," adding that his government is "trying to see what we can claw back."

Meanwhile, an ongoing petition seeking the government's intervention over public access to Antigua's popular Jolly Beach has so far garnered over 4,000 signatures.

The petition, coordinated by the Antigua Conservation Society, says: "It is about protecting the principle that Antigua's beaches should remain genuinely accessible to the public. It is about ensuring that development enhances our country without gradually eroding the rights of the people who have enjoyed these shores for generations."

The Antigua and Barbuda government's Development Control Authority (DCA) is advising residents to report instances where public access to the country's beaches is restricted.

A government campaign under the banner of "Public Beach Access Is Your Right!" stresses that under local laws, 'access to these important natural spaces is guaranteed and must be protected'. Antigua and Barbuda's 365 beaches - one for every day of the year - are an integral part of the country's tourism profile and marketing.

BARBADOS

Meanwhile, in Barbados, the government is being called on to acquire a parcel of land used to access a beach over concerns that it's being blocked by property owners.

MP for the area in question and Minister of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Trade, Kerrie Symmonds, has said he will take the issue up with the Mia Mottley administration, of which he is a Cabinet member, to resolve the matter by having the government buy the land in question.

Speaking of "social injustices creeping up on this issue," Mr Symmonds stated: "I think that we all have a collective sense of what is the real place where we need to land in order to ensure that there is fairness and that the wellbeing of the wider community is taken into consideration."

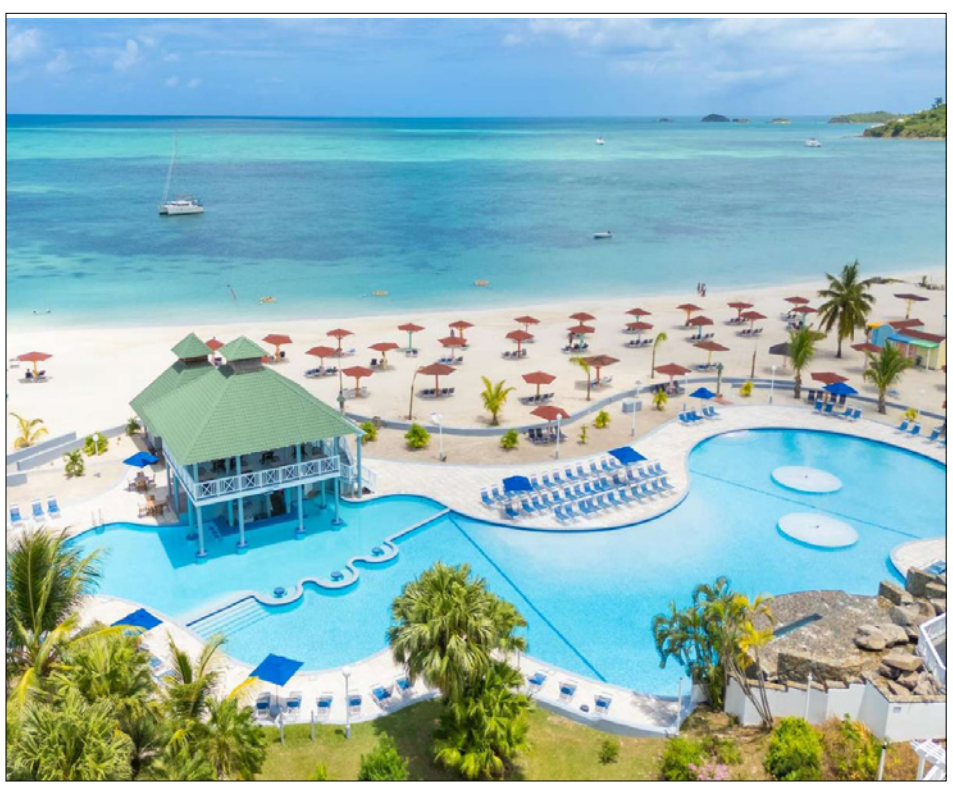

Mr Symmonds said, "The approach which I propose to take is (to) have the government begin the process of engaging with the property owners so that we can find, hopefully, an amicable relationship and settlement of the matter.2

Looking at the prospect of a worst-case scenario, he added, "We will have to look at the acquisition of that sliver of land to ensure that people who just simply want to be able to access the beach which, in a sense is the patrimony of the country, should be able to do."

There is some local debate surrounding the legalities involved, especially the strength of the government's case in acquisition of property in the public interest or via the open market.

Barbados was at the forefront of the region-wide beach access debate with the pan-Caribbean popularity of the calypso titled "Jack" by the singer and cultural icon Gabby. Released in 1982, it documents a dispute over public access to beaches in Barbados. That song resonated across the region and has become an anthem for the campaign to regain public access to beaches in countries across the Caribbean.

Brown realises her hoop dreams

Cayman Islands athlete Lorrie Brown has made local history in becoming the first female to receive and accept an NCAA Division I basketball scholarship.

Brown will continue her academic and basketball journey at Radford University, a respected public university in Virginia. Radford University is one of Virginia's doctorate-granting public universities and offers more than 100 fields of study. The university competes at the highest level of collegiate athletics, NCAA Division I, as the Radford Highlanders, a member of the Big South Conference.

Earning a Division, I scholarship is an achievement reached by only a select few. It represents years of dedication, discipline, academic commitment, and athletic excellence. Competing at the NCAA Division I level places Brown among some of the best collegiate basketball athletes in the United States, providing access to elite coaching, top-tier facilities, and opportunities to grow both in sport and in the classroom.

For a small island nation like the Cayman Islands, this accomplishment is especially significant. Her achievement is more than a personal milestone. Her success demonstrates that talent from Cayman can compete and earn recognition on the international stage.

Brown, 18, developed her skills with the Cayman Islands Breakfast Club and the Infinity Basketball Team under the guidance of coach Cory McGee. McGee said, the Breakfast Club was founded on a simple but powerful philosophy: " It is the preparation for what's to come at the next level."

Behind this historic achievement were countless early mornings, sacrifices, and an unwavering commitment to her goals. For three consecutive years, she was in the gym before 5:15am around 280 days each year before heading to school. Those who witnessed her journey understand that this scholarship is not simply the result of talent. It is the product of discipline, perseverance, sacrifice, and an unmatched work ethic.

She later continued her development at DME Academy in Daytona Beach, Florida.

Cayman Basketball president Collin Anglin said Lorrie showed the potential to do great things from a very young age. "I still remember Lorrie when she started playing at Red Bay Primary School. To witness her journey through our various youth leagues, her dedication and performances through her club Infinity, heading off to DME, being selected by Basketball Without Borders, and now her next chapter at Division I. Lorrie not only had natural talent, she had the attitude and work ethic that was necessary to get here. Her achievement is well deserved and we are proud of her."

Rugby squad hungry for success after nutrition tips

Cayman female rugby players will be even fitter and faster thanks to the efforts of Dr Kristen Lomas from Seven Mile Medical Clinic.

She deserves credit for speaking to the Cayman Rugby girls and women players about the importance of nutrition and fuelling minds and bodies for the gruelling sport.

Lomas delivered a fantastic workshop focused on game-week preparation and how players can best fuel themselves ahead of the Girls & Women's Domestic Rugby Day.

There were some fantastic questions from the players, with key messages emphasising the importance of eating enough, not skipping meals and staying properly hydrated to support performance, recovery and overall wellbeing.

A Cayman Rugby spokesperson said: "We are incredibly grateful to Kristen for sharing her knowledge, giving her time and supporting the development of our girls and women in rugby. Fuelling our bodies is just as important as training them! "

Alcaraz looking smashing again

Carlos Alcaraz is back after a turbulent year of injury and setbacks.

Just two months after his comeback tournament was ended in a late-night New York blockbuster against Ben Shelton, Alcaraz took his revenge on Sunday.

In doing so, he showed that his ascension back to the top of the men's game is closing in.

Alcaraz exceeded expectations when, on his return from four months out with a wrist injury, he reached the US Open quarter-finals in September. But he went out in an absorbing five-set epic against rising American favourite Shelton.

But since then, Alcaraz has won three titles and lost only once in 17 matches.

Victory over world number four Shelton sealed the 23-year-old Spaniard's first triumph at the Paris Masters 1000 tournament. It also confirmed that Alcaraz will again be ready to compete for the sport's major prizes in 2027.

Following his 7-6 (7-5) 7-5 triumph, Alcaraz said: "It's something I've been chasing for a long time. I had some of the toughest losses of my career here.

"Today was one of the toughest challenges we have in tennis right now, facing Ben. Great champion, great player, great person. He is doing better and better every tournament. From here, it is going to be even tougher facing him.

"I'm just really happy that I finally got it. This tournament is really special."

Alcaraz's year started promisingly. He became the youngest man to complete the career Grand Slam at the Australian Open. Then his season was derailed by injury.

Alcaraz's maiden Paris title marks his ninth consecutive match win and fifth tournament victory from six finals in 2026. In the world rankings, he is third now behind Alexander Zverev (Germany) and Jannik Sinner (Italy).

"I want to give a big congratulations to Carlos," magnanimous Shelton said. "I don't think everybody realises how difficult it is to win back-to-back - from Vienna to Paris. Ten matches in 14 days. It speaks to your versatility as a champion and the work you put in."

Doncic magic makes him clear MVP so far

Luka Doncic is on a tear again for the Los Angeles Lakers. That was emphasised by his 53-point haul against the Portland Trail Blazers on Friday. Doncic has been nothing but extraordinary to start the Lakers' season, averaging 40 points. He is hitting shots from all over the court with little or no separation between the defender and himself. The rest of the Lakers are feeding off his energy and playing inspired hoops.

The Slovenian is a two-time scoring champ and six-time member of the All-NBA First Team. He's the first player in history to record six straight games of 35-plus points, five-plus rebounds, five-plus assists and five-plus 3-pointers. He had 52 against Utah. That led to Giannis Antetokounmpo calling Doncic one of the greatest scorers of all time, high praise indeed.

Though there are still flashes of petulance and frustration, Doncic seems committed to being a better all-around player, a lofty bar to clear for sure. His defence seems to have improved and his passing remains sharp.

Rampant Bears trio helps Williams stand out at QB

Caleb Williams is the Chicago Bears quarterback who is in inspired form this season. The Bears have assembled quite the collection of pass catchers for Williams and he is making the most of the opportunities.

Williams has been better at targeting the Bears' top three receiving leaders: Luther Burden III (42), Colston Loveland (33) and Rome Odunze (tied with Kalif Raymond at 28) before Sunday's game against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

In the first eight games, the trio made up 1,324 of the Bears' 2,031 yards through the air and five of their eight passing touchdowns.

However, backup quarterbacks Case Keenum and Tyson Bagent seemed to forge a better connection with the trio when Williams was out of commission due to a hamstring injury.

Williams attributes it to "just consistency with being able to have these guys just over the past two years now.

"The communication, our relationship as a group has grown," he said. "We hang out together. We do things together. All these things. So you start building that relationship and that bond between each other."
